DEATH ENDS FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

EX-SENATOR SHELBY MOORE CULLOM DIES TODAY AT NATIONAL CAPITAL WHERE HE SPENT MANY YEARS IN PUBLIC LIFE.

FROM PLOUGH BOY TO SENATE CHAMBER

HAS TAKEN PROMINENT PART IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS SINCE 1855, WHEN STARTED IN AS AN ATTORNEY—WAS FORMER GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Former Senator Shelby M. Cullom, of Illinois, died here today after an illness of more than a week, during which time he hovered between life and death. His last words expressed a wish that he might have lived to see the completion of the National Memorial to Abraham Lincoln, who was his personal friend.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Shelby Moore Cullom's death ended fifty years of continuous public service that had made him a figure in American national life and brought him into public relations with every President from Abraham Lincoln to Woodrow Wilson. President Taft once said of him:

"Why, here's my old friend Uncle Shelby; he comes nearer connecting the present with the days of Washington than any one else whom I know."

As a ploughboy driving his father's oxen over the fresh prairies of Illinois, he had known and talked with survivors of the Revolution and on the rugged foundations of a life begun in pioneer hardships of a family of twelve children had built a career that took him to the Illinois Legislature as a member; speaker of the Assembly, two terms in the governor's chair, service in the National House of Representatives, and thirty consecutive years in the United States Senate.

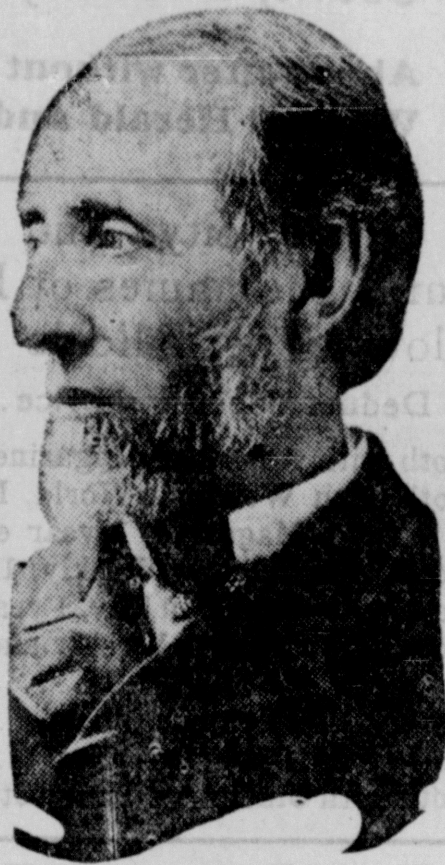

His nearest living contemporary probably is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, whose senior he was some seven years by birth and some three years in national service.

Scraping together the rudiments of an education gained by toiling over rough primeval roads, he became successfully a student at Mount Morris Academy, a country school teacher and a lawyer, being admitted to the bar at Springfield in 1855.

Lincoln was assassinated soon after Cullom entered Washington life and the young legislator was a member of the committee that demanded the return of the President's body to Springfield. Then when the country began to recover from what seemed a final blow and the reconstruction set in with the Thirty-ninth Congress, Cullom began his service with the Illinois delegation, and with such colleagues in Congress as Logan, Wentworth, Blaine, Conkling and Hayes and Garfield, both of whom attained the Presidency.

After six years in the House during which he had seen the impeachment of Andrew Johnson and taken part in the making of a most critical period of American history, he returned to Illinois vowing never again to take office, only to become speaker of the legislature and later governor. At the Philadelphia convention he placed Grant in nomination for his second term which is said to be the shortest nominating speech ever delivered. It contained seventy-five words.

Cullom's career as a United States Senator began in 1883 when he resigned as governor and was elected to succeed David Davis. His service in the Senate chamber was an unbroken one for thirty years, five consecutive terms, a record excelled only by two other men, Senator Allison, of Iowa, and Senator Morrill, of Vermont. He entered the Senate in 1883, a spry, active man of fifty-four, he left 3, 1913, and he was appointed chair-eighty-four but with a drain still bright and active.

During the last few years his friends had seen him slowly fading away in body and he became so feeble that his voice in the Senate chamber was not heard farther than the clerk's desk. His term ended March 3, 1913, and he was appointed chairman of the Lincoln Memorial Commission created by Congress to superintend the erection of the $2,000,000 memorial in this city. The one wish expressed on his death bed was that he might live to see the completion of the national memorial to his old friend.

THIEF LEAPS FROM TRAIN

By Associated Press.

Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Harry Warner, who says his home is in Salesville, Guernsey county, jumped off a B. & O. passenger train at three o'clock this morning, wearing two overcoats and carrying a lady's hand bag which contained a gentleman's gold watch.

He was arrested and held until two passengers on the train were aroused and identified one overcoat and the watch. He was then placed in the city prison where he is being held pending an investigation.

George Anderson, Thomas Slayton, Charles Lloyd and Charles Sipe, of Cambridge, Ohio, were arrested today and held in the city prison on suspicion, they having come from Cambridge on the B. & O. train No. 105. They are all well known in Cambridge and deny any knowledge of the robbery.

GRAND JURY RESUMES WORK

By Associated Press.

Houghton, Mich., January 28.—After a recess of two days, the special grand jury investigating the copper mine disorders resumed its deliberations today. It was understood that further inquiry was being made into the Painesdale case in which three non-union miners, British subjects, were murdered in their beds in the dead of night.

BURGARS TAKE NAP: NOW OCCUPY CELLS.

New York, Jan. 28.—Three industrious burglars are locked up after a hard night's work in a Grand street store. They toiled hard and at last they had 20 bundles of underwear tied up and ready to move when their carriage came, which had been ordered at 5:30 a. m. The burglars set an alarm clock for 5:30 and took a nap. But at 5 o'clock an employee in the loft came to work, an hour ahead of time. He saw the burglars and called the police, who arrived just as the alarm went off.

REBELS TAKE CITY

By Associated Press.

El Paso, Texas, January 28.—The capture by Rebels of the City of Concepcion De Loro in the state of Zatecas, together with its garrison of 400 Federals was reported to Rebel headquarters today. General Gutierrez, who commanded the Rebels gave no details of the battle, except to say it occurred last Monday and that 100 Federals reinforced from Saltillo also were taken. The city has a population of 25,000 and is in the center of a rich mining district. The capture gives the Rebels undisputed control over a stretch of 400 miles additional territory in northern Mexico.

YACHT MAY BE LOST

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—All during the night and early today the two wireless stations at this point were silent as to the fate of Frederick W. Vanderbilt's yacht, the "Warrior," which went aground on the coast of Columbia yesterday.

Operators of the two companies were calling the Warrior almost continuously all night, but received no answer. This is not considered as sufficient evidence that the Warrior has been lost, as its wireless equipment was of small power.

When last heard of the Warrior was in a dangerous condition.

Frederick W. Vanderbilt and party among them the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, will come direct to New York on board the United Fruit steamer Almirante, leaving the Vanderbilt yacht Warrior stranded off the northwest coast of Columbia. Word to that effect was received here today by the United Fruit Company from Captain W. H. Devan.

South Africa produced gold worth $125,500,000 in the first eight months of 1912.

RADIUM RUSH ON NEW LAW SOUGHT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Spurred by reports that prospectors have started a "radium rush" to the Carnate lands of Colorado and Utah, the House Mines Committee today hurriedly closed its hearings and began preparing a bill for government control of the nation's radium output. It will not withdraw radium lands from private entry, but will reserve to the government the right to buy and reduce all radium ores in a government reducing plant, probably at Denver. The new bill will be introduced late today or tomorrow and an effort will be made to get a special rule to expedite its passage through the House.

TAFT URGES MORE TRAINING

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Former president William Howard Taft left early today for Canada, after urging members of the Yale Alumni Association here last night that the younger generation should be trained in political principles.

"I don't like to be regarded as an old fogy," he said, "and I don't think I am. We are in a transitory period, which in many respects represents a crisis in the national career. We should see that the coming generation does not lightly let go of what centuries have given to us of sound political principles."

REPUBLICANS WANT FIRST HAND DOPE

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 28.—Republicans of the House and Senate today announced they had decided to conduct "first hand" investigations of the vouchers in the State Auditor's Department to determine how monies of the governor's contingent fund were expended last summer in investigating referendum frauds. This action is in accordance with the governor's invitation to go into the voucher files. The Republicans expect to hold another caucus late today.

WARSHIP IS RUSHING TOWARD HAITI CAPITAL

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Under forced draft the big United States Battleship South Carolina, is rushing across the seas toward Port Au Prince, Haiti, to join her blue jackets and marines with those of the Montana for the protection of Americans and others in Haiti.

Left without government by the sudden departure of the president, the island Republic is threatened with anarchy.

Captain Russel, of the South Carolina, will be Senior Naval Officer on the scene, and will take whatever measures are necessary to protect the foreigners and their property, without orders from Washington.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 28.—

Armed detachments of American marines from the Montana are today on guard at the American Legation, the cable station and French hospital. German blue-jackets and marines have been placed to protect the other foreign legations and the German stores.

Large landing parties were sent ashore from the American and German war vessels when President Michael Oreste left for refuge on the German cruiser, Vineta, after fighting broke out in the streets of the capital.

Fusillades continued in all parts of the city throughout the night and numerous attempts at pillage of houses and stores, but these were quickly suppressed and today the city is quiet.

THREE MEN EXAMINED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 28.—Three witnesses were examined by the Kramer Investigating committee at a short session this morning to determine whether they had drawn pay for holding other state positions while members of the Legislature. Representative Brown, of Ashland, said he was employed for 18 days by the State Agriculture Commission as an inspector of food stuffs during 1913.

Representative Black of Wyandot, said he was secretary of the Penitentiary Site Commission last fall, but that he drew no money for the work. Representative Cappelle of Hamilton said that the first of January this year he was employed as an assistant to the prosecutor of Hamilton county to look after matters arising from provisions of the tax law. Cappelle said he asked Attorney General Hogan for his opinion as to whether he could hold the position and that the Attorney General told him that while the law itself probably was not violated, holding the position violated the spirit of the law.

Representative Brennan, of Cuyahoga county, said he served as "emergency inspector" for the Cuyahoga County Liquor License Board during October and November and drew $111 for his work. His duties he said, were to visit saloons and make recommendations to the commissioners as to whether licenses should be granted.

MINERS CHEER ANNOUNCEMENT

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 28.—Announcements made by President John P. White, that two resolutions providing for federal investigation of the strikes in Colorado and Michigan had passed the lower House of Congress by a large majority, was greeted with prolonged cheers today by the delegates attending the convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The attempt to curtail the appointive power of the International President by changing the constitution, failed when it came to a vote today.

PROBE COMING

Washington, Jan. 28.—A sweeping investigation of strike conditions in the coal fields of Colorado and the copper district of Michigan was authorized by the house. Hearings will be conducted in the strike regions by a subcommittee.

STRIKE LEADERS ARE DEPORTED

By Associated Press.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Jan. 28.—The deportation from South Africa of ten prominent labor leaders was carried out so quietly last night that little was known of the occurrence in South Africa today.

The men who had taken a prominent part in the recent strike arrived in Dunbar under heavy guard, and at midnight were placed on board a steamer which sailed at once for England.

MUST RETURN TO KENTUCKY

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Charles Hicks, in jail at Portsmouth, Ohio, must return to Kentucky where he is accused of assaulting a woman.

He resisted extradition but Governor Cox decided that the Kentucky authorities were entitled to requisition for Hicks, and he will be taken to Louisa for trial.

THIRD WEEK OF CAMPAIGN PROMISES GREAT RESULTS

Thirty Confessions Made in the City Last Night, When Personal Workers Get Busy and Assist Ministers—Young Man Who Recently Took Stand For Christ Has Heart to Heart Talk With Companions in Restaurant—Dr. Shaw Leaves.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

It was in a local restaurant last night that this happened. A group of half a dozen men had been discussing the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign. Somehow men are discussing it everywhere. Religion has become a general topic of conversation. Into the restaurant came a young man, and at his appearance the conversation ceased with a rather awkward abruptness.

"I say," ventured one of the men who had been taking an active part in the conversation, as he laid a hand on the shoulder of the newcomer, "they tell me you have hit the trail. Is it right?"

The young man flushed, and then faced the group. "Yes, it is right, boys!" he said quietly. "And what is more, I mean to stick to it! I heard Callahan last Sunday, and he put the thing up before me in a way that I couldn't get away from. That man, Callahan, certainly is a wonder."

The silence fell again as the others watched him dubiously. Finally the young man turned again. "By the way, why don't you fellows follow my example? There isn't a man in this town who doesn't know deep down in his heart that he is making a hopeless fight without help from God. You may not admit it, but when things get blue, and everything goes dead wrong, you think you are mighty much alone. You feel that you need something, something that the fellow you have been chumming around with can't give you. What you are hungry for is something to buck you up, and help you go on, and keep you doing things. And I believe I found just what I have been hungry for years when I took Callahan's hand and told him that I was going to take Christ into my life. You had better think it over, you fellows. And why not go out to church tomorrow night?"

This simple, homely little appeal shows something of the spirit that the evangelistic campaign is generating in this community. It is getting under the surface of men and things, a little slowly maybe, but with a definiteness that promises some stirring results before the movement is over.

More than thirty confessions and church accessions were added to the record of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign at the services of local churches last evening. The result exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the executive committee, and building on the enthusiasm manifested last night, they believe that this week will prove not only the banner week of the movement, but that it may establish a number of new church records in this community.

As a rule the first service of the week lacks fire and spirit. Contrary to this precedent, the meetings in every church last night showed perhaps the greatest personal interest of the campaign. In one church alone there were sixteen confessions, following a record of twenty at its last previous service.

A hopeful feature last night was the activity of the personal workers. There were instances in every church of men and women taking the message of the gospel to others in the pews, and in several cases with so successful results that they added greatly to the results of the evening. It was not alone the preacher, but the men and women in the pews that made the splendid record of the evening, and it is believed that the activities of the personal workers will be even more pronounced during the remainder of the week.

The services at the Palace Theater at noon each day, and at the various local shops and stores will be pushed with even greater zeal from now on. A stirring program is being planned for next Sunday as the culmination of the week. While the schedule has not yet been completed in detail, it may be said that it will offer a wide appeal.

A well known business man declared last night that in his opinion the real results of the campaign are only just beginning, and that he confidently expects a revival that will reach over the whole state before the movement is completed.

Another record-breaking crowd gathered at the Christian church last night, and every part of the building was filled to its greatest capacity. With the confessions last night, the number of conversions and accessions to date in this one church has reached the total of ninety, with the interest steadily increasing.

A remarkable record has been set at the Christian church by the steady attendance of both the senior and the junior choirs. At the beginning of the third week, the attendance of both choirs shows not the slightest falling off on any evening of the meeting. An average attendance of eight members has been maintained through the whole campaign.

A beautiful duet was given by Mrs. Campbell and Miss Mabel A. Jones, assisted in the chorus by Clifford Irvin and Melwood Hostetler.

Rev. Hostetler gave a powerful sermon on "The Mission of Jesus in the World." He declared that the mission of Christ on earth was not among the rich and educated alone, but that he went among the poor and lowly. He not only ate with sinners, but went to the homes of sinners. "Jesus," he said, "has always been the sinner's friend. As He forgave the sinful woman who washed his feet with her tears and dried them with her hair, so He will come to the vilest and lowest of sinners today if they will open their lives to receive Him."

In answer to scores of requests, Mr. McCracken, of Columbus, repeated his solo, "My Mother's Beautiful Hands", at the close of the service. The rite of baptism was given to a number after the meeting.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

A large and inspiring attendance opened the third week's services at the Baptist church. Rev. Henry Brandt has returned from his visit in Wilmington, and gave a vital, forceful sermon on "The Lamb of God That Taketh Away the Sin of the World." He pointed out that the main thing about the character of Jesus is not that He is a great prophet, or the world's best man, or even that He is the personal, individual friend of every man, but that He is the world's sin-bearer and Saviour. He has taken away the sin of the world in two ways," said Mr. Brandt, "by taking its burden on Himself and bearing it in our place, and by carrying it away from us so that we may be cleansed and regenerated." The subject of Mr. Brandt this evening will be "The New Testament Command to Repent."

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

One of the most enthusiastic services of the campaign was held at the Grace M. E. church last night. Not only was there a large audience but a spirit of unusual earnestness and zeal was manifested all through the service. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas led a song program of much force, and Mr. Ross delivered a sermon that went straight to the hearts of his hearers. Such was the appeal that one of the largest numbers of confessions which this church has had during the campaign resulted.

There is every indication that one of the most stirring records for years in Grace M. E. church will be the result of this week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

It is with a sense of real personal loss that the congregation of the Presbyterian church sees the date of Dr. Shaw's departure for his home in Jamestown. Dr. Shaw has preached a series of arresting sermons that have gripped his hearers without being in any sense spectacular or sensational. The appeal of Dr. Shaw has been not only to the head but to the heart, and his own personality and earnestness have given unusual force to his messages. He will leave for his home this evening, and the local pastor, Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage, will fill the pulpit for the remainder of the week.

CLERK IN BAD

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Albert S. Pettit, a clerk in the Richmond Hill postoffice, was arrested on the charge of embezzlement from the mails. Pettit, whose father is assistant postmaster in the same office, was brought before Commissioner Cochran for arraignment. According to the inspectors he confessed to extensive thefts.

THIS MAIL CARRIER HAS SOME JOB

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 28.—After throwing up his hands in despair and calling for aid when three car loads of ore in 50-pound packages, shipped by parcel post, were handed him to deliver recently, the contractor who handles the mail between Stites and Elk City, Idaho, is expected to succumb when he begins to receive from Spokane a 50,000-pound parcel post shipment of groceries over the same route.

Stites is on the railroad and Elk City is not, and the parcel post shipments are carried 60 miles by a government carrier between the two points. He has been using light wagons, but may have to engage a battery of automobile freighters if business picks up. The grocery shipment comprises 1,000 50-pound packages, and goes at the rate of 54 cents for 50 pounds.

To top it off, it is understood the Elk City retailer expects to have dry goods and hardware supplies shipped by parcel post from Spokane.

WIRELESS INSTALLED ON FAST TRAIN

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The successful attempt to send a wireless message from a fast moving train which took place in November, 1913 on a Lackawanna train between Hoboken, N. J., and Buffalo, N. Y., has been so pronounced that it is the intention of the Lackawanna Railroad to install the system on the second train running between those two points so that there will be communication with the trains running to and from New York.

The station in the trains takes up no more room than the ordinary lavatory, and this special feature is of particular importance to the railroads. The stations at Scranton and Binghamton have an operating radius of 300 miles. The antenna at Binghamton is supported by one tower. Both these towers are located on the roofs of the stations.

At all times the communication between stations is perfect, and even when the train is running at the rate of 55 miles an hour communication is kept up. The test thus far has shown that the system in use on the railroads will be a great time-saving device by assuring that trains will always be in communication at any speed and at any distance from stations regardless of "line breaks" from winter blizzards, washouts, fogs or other extraordinary conditions.

Toledo, O., Jan. 28.—Sanitary inspectors working under the board of health and the orders of the city health officer invaded the public schools and began the eviction of pupils and teachers who had not been vaccinated.

In Man's Interest

The advancement of the rights and the preservation and endowment of the opportunities of individual man is the underlying cause for almost all of the present legislation in the nation and in the several states.

This nation is too big, the resources yet to be developed are too immense and of too much value to humanity to permit any unjust action antagonistic to property.

On the other hand there are too many millions of individuals who must live and who are entitled to prosper and advance intellectually and morally to devote all of the energy in enacting and executing laws in the interest of property.

The parcels post laws, the anti-trust laws enacted and suggested, the laws for an eight hour working day, mothers' pensions, workmen's compensation, pensions for the blind, good roads, compulsory arbitration, compelling the use of safety appliances on dangerous machinery, child labor laws, enlargement and improvement of the free school system and a host of others of similar nature and import are not antagonistic to property, but for the advancement of the interests of humanity.

The ruling spirit of the present time is the welfare of man and whoever fails to recognize that fact is decidedly out of tune with the trend of public opinion.

The majority are now insisting that the rights of men be taken into consideration and that, until the rights of the individual are brought, by legislative and executive action, to a level with the advanced stage now occupied by property, the whole attention and the best efforts of the lawmaking powers, be devoted to that end.

Mere material prosperity has ceased longer to satisfy the people.

True they do not desire to have property rights transgressed—they do not demand and would resent any legislation destructive of present prosperity, but at the same time they are demanding of officials that humanity, in the mass, be given consideration.

In that condition, which all thinking men now admit exists, is to be found the reason for a demand for a change which rolled over the nation like a tidal wave in spite of the fact that the nation was enjoying a material prosperity never before equalled.

Statesmen of the present day if they meet the demands of the people, have no easy task, and statesmen these days—public servants at least—are held to strict accountability by the people who watch and understand more than ever before.

Predatory wealth must be checked and yet property rights must not be disturbed.

Everything but Dreadnoughts Can Now Pass Through Panama Canal

By Colonel GEORGE W. GOETHALS, Builder of Panama Canal

A CHANNEL one hundred feet wide and twenty-five feet deep, sufficient to permit the PASSAGE OF ANY VESSEL IN OUR NAVY EXCEPT THE DREADNOUGHTS, now exists through the Cucaracha slide. If it were necessary we could send ships through the canal tomorrow.

EXCAVATION IS ADVANCING AT A RATE OF FIFTEEN THOUSAND CUBIC YARDS A DAY, AND THERE IS EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THE ENTIRE SLIDE WILL BE REMOVED BEFORE JULY.

Except for the work at the terminals the construction of the CANAL IS FINISHED. In the year 1914 I expect to see the canal thrown open to navigation and the ships of many nations using it.

Big Armies For Burglary Insurance

By Dr. INGE, Dean of St. Paul's Church, London

MODERN Europeans are not a warlike people. The true fighting man trusts to his own right arm to defend himself when the time comes. It is the OLD, RICH AND TIMOROUS NATIONS which guard themselves laboriously against enemies, of which there is not a sign in Europe today.

EUROPE IS LIKE A STREET OF TRADESMEN WHO PAY HALF THEIR INCOMES FOR BURGLARY INSURANCE AGAINST EACH OTHER. THIS IS VERY ABSURD AND VERY BAD BUSINESS, BUT THERE IS NOTHING ESPECIALLY UNCHRISTIAN ABOUT IT.

Nations get larger until they reach their final expansion and then disappear because neither the earth nor the air nor the water can support them any longer.

BETER THAN YOU THINK.

You've had some trouble, and maybe have grown Discouraged through and through, And are ready to throw the whole thing up— I wouldn't, if I were you. For though sometimes there's a bitter taste In the cup from which you drink, There's more that is sweet in the wine of life Than you or I may think.

Because you have found that the motives of some Are selfish and unjust, Don't view the mass of the human race With feelings of distrust. Though now and then you may find a type From which you can but shrink, You'll find that the rank and file of men Are better than you think.

You are sick of the grasping greed of the age? And so am I, my friend; But I know there's a host of the other kind Who strive for a nobler end. And though it may seem that this old world Is bad enough to sink— Don't fool yourself, there is lots of good. More of it than you think.

Don't glue your eyes to a cheerless view, But keep the good in sight, And trust in Him who is over all, And you'll win out all right. For though in some of the threads of life There's now and then a kink, You'll find the pattern, when all is complete, Far better than you think. —Rev. F. M. Moore, Bloomingburg, O.

CITIZENS MAY HAVE A VOICE

Many Invited to Air Views On Anti-Trust Legislation.

ALL CLASSES REPRESENTED

Men Distinguished in Agricultural, Labor and Industrial Circles Expected to Discuss the Administration's Program—Measures To Be Reported to House Early in March. Democratic Caucus Probable.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Men distinguished in industry, agriculture and labor are expected to discuss the administration anti-trust program at hearings before the house committees that have jurisdiction over this proposed legislation. The hearings on the subject, which will run for a month, will begin this week.

Tomorrow the judiciary committee, of which Mr. Clayton of Alabama is chairman, will begin hearing witnesses on the trade relations bill, the measure aimed at interlocking directorates, and the bill that attempts more clearly to define the terms "monopoly" and "monopolization." Friday the interstate and foreign commerce committee, of which Mr. Adanson of Georgia is chairman, will initiate public hearings on the bill proposing the creation of an "interstate trade commission," and another bill providing government supervision over the issuance of railroad stocks and bonds.

Present indications are that the administration anti-trust program will be submitted to the house for consideration early in March. Whether the bills will be subjected to the test of a Democratic caucus remains to be determined.

There is a general expectation that such men as E. H. Gary, Seth Low, George W. Perkins, J. P. Morgan and others equally prominent will be given an opportunity to present their views on the anti-trust bills. Samuel Gompers will be asked to speak for labor, while the various agricultural associations will be invited to send representatives.

NEWSY NOTES

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

The Blue Goose, that oasis of thirsty pleasure seekers at Buckeye Lake will be dry the coming summer for the township has voted dry. Disappointed aspirants for liquor licenses are accused by the wets of putting the only saloon at the resort out of business and the election has caused much bitter feeling.

The Chamber of Commerce of Chillicothe has decided to go after a state Armory for that town, as promised by the state after certain conditions are complied with and a committee for this purpose has been appointed.

As evidence that this part of the earth was once the edge of the Glacial Ice Packs, large granite boulders around Greenfield are pointed out. Three boulders, of beautiful Canadian Granite, are of from 20 to 30 tons in weight and attract much attention from geologists.

Miss Bess Craumer, Dayton's first police woman, is "on the job" at the Union Station in this city from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m., and her most active time for service is at night. In an interview she says: "There are so many loungers around the Union Depot at night, that I find that my most effective work can be done at this time." Continuing Miss Craumer says: "Young girls who come to big cities are drawn by the lure of the bright lights and the anticipations of happiness." It is just girls of this kind that Miss Craumer hopes to rescue before white slave agents get their hold on them, with promises that instead of developing into joy, bring only sorrow and pain and a ruined life.

STRIKE PROBABLE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 28.—Refusal which has been made by the Lake Shore and Big Four railroads to grant the demands of 2,500 railroad telegraphers, telephone operators and station agents, may result in a strike of these employees over 2,000 miles of road, say officials of the Order of Railway Telegraphers here. Strike ballots have been sent to members of the order.

NEWS OUR FATHERS READ

By John E. M. Kerr.
November 7, 1872.

Mr. D. Waters placed in our hands the other day a copy of the "People's Palladium," Vol. 1, dated August 4, 1832, edited by A. Critchfield, price $2.00 a year. It had the following ticket at the head of its editorial columns: Democratic Republican nomination for President, Andrew Jackson; for Vice President, Martin Van Buren; for Governor, Robert Lucas, for Congress, William Allen. It contains a long editorial in support of President Jackson's veto of the United States Bank. The editor says: "We have received a letter from Bloomington signed by a number of subscribers, several of whom have never paid us, ordering discontinuance." The editor says: "We do not discontinue until all arrearages are paid." Among the advertisements we see one by Z. W. Heagler, calling a meeting at the Court House of those who had subscribed money for the purpose of enclosing the grave yard.

John S. Campbell advertises his wholesale and retail hat factory. Jacob Snider and John King administrators of estate of Henry Snider, advertise his notice of sale of personal property of Snider's estate.

Will Price wants 1500 hands to work on the Ohio Canal between Chillicothe and Portsmouth. Price paid per month, $14.

Z. W. Heagler notifies all that nothing but cash will satisfy him.

The editor has the following: "If you want saddles, inquire at this office."

The Ohio Reform Medical College, 9 miles north of Columbus, advertises. The paper does not appear to be favored with a heavy advertising custom. It appears to be equal to newspapers of that day, everything considered, but pretty poor compared with a modern newspaper.

EMPLOY FLEET OF AEROPLANES

London, Jan. 28.—The army arm; have plans for adapting aeroplanes for the transportation of troops which they hope to induce the war office to sanction. The idea is to build a fleet of aeroplanes, each of which will be able to carry a pilot and 10 soldiers with full equipment. The aviators argue that 100 such aeroplanes would enable the commander of an army to transport 1,000 men from one point of the battlefield to another at the rate of a mile a minute.

STABS PLAYMATES

Ashtabula, O., Jan. 28.—While snowballing in the schoolyard at Sheffield, Raymond Fassett, 16, was stabbed in the back by a playmate, Garland Hill, 12. A wound three inches deep was inflicted, but doctors say the boy will live. The Hill boy admitted the stabbing, but said he did it because older boys were throwing snowballs at the younger ones.

Don't Trust Calomel

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 7 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. adv

SELF RISING FLOUR TO BE MANUFACTURED IN THIS CITY

Sometime this evening the changing of a pulley will set the new machinery in motion at the big plant of The Washington Milling Company, for the manufacture of two new brands of flour, both to be self rising flour—the first ever manufactured in this city, and the plant will be one of the few in Ohio turning out the new product.

For weeks the work of installing the new machinery for manufacturing the flour has been going forward, and Wednesday afternoon the finishing touches were added so that by the changing of a pulley the work of producing the self rising flour will be started.

The two new brands will be the "Neverfail" and "Sunshine," both of which are manufactured from winter wheat with phosphate, soda and salt added, the new product being scientifically mixed so that it is ready for use without the addition of soda, salt or baking powders, and can be used for bread and all kinds of pastry.

The capacity of the machinery for the manufacture of the self rising flour is 350 to 400 barrels every twenty-four hours, and already orders are on file for thousands of barrels of the new flour, and within a short time it is expected that the demand will exceed the output, as the popularity of the flour increases with use.

The management of the Washington Milling Company figures that the new process, nearly $2 can be saved on each barrel, as the consumer will be at no expense for the ingredients usually required for making bread and pastry, and the additional cost of the flour is expected to be small in comparison with the combined cost of raw flour, baking powders, soda, salt and the like.

For some little time the management of the concern has been making widespread investigation with the result that the self rising flour is to be manufactured in vast quantities.

In addition to the self rising brands the company will continue to manufacture the four brands heretofore produced.

STEWART SALE OF FINE HORSES

The January stock sales yesterday drew the biggest crowd that has been in town for some time, a crowd largely of stockmen and possible buyers.

A notable sale of the day was the offering of Mr. Hugh K. Stewart, of Springfield farm, the well known Duroc Jersey swine and heavy horse breeder, who auctioned off in front of the Hess livery barn a consignment of eleven head of choice registered and grade Percherons.

The entire bunch, largely young geldings and fillies, sold well, bringing a total of $2187. Prices ranged from $99, for a weanling colt, to $410 for a registered Percheron mare, bid in by the Percheron breeder, Mr. Chas. Sargent.

Auctioneer Scott Robinson, of Mt. Sterling, wielded the hammer and bidding was lively throughout the sale. Local buyers captured the entire lot.

Mr. Stewart's annual sale of pure bred Duroc Jersey sows, will be held at the Hess Livery barn, on February 7th. In that sale 60 head of pure bred, immune Durocs will be offered and buyers will attend from all over the country.

COUNTY REFUSES TO GRANT FRANCHISE

The commissioners of Ross county this week refused to grant to the officials of the proposed traction line from Hillsboro to Chillicothe, franchise for the construction of the road in that county.

The commissioners were not convinced that the money to finance the project was available, and refused to jeopardize the chances of another company to build if they secured the financial aid before the present company.

RAILROAD SCALE TESTED YESTERDAY

Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures, F. C. Albrecht, of Columbus, Ohio, was in the city Tuesday, called here by The Fayette Grain Co. to settle a dispute between the Howe Scale Co., of Cincinnati, O., and The Fayette Grain Co., concerning a railroad track scale, bought of the Howe Scale Co. The Fayette Grain Co. getting their information from the inspector of scales on the B. & O. system that the scale was not adjusted close enough to weigh correctly, while the Howe Scale Co. contended that they were correct. The following is the finding of Mr. Albrecht:

"I have this day witnessed the test made of the Fayette Grain Co.'s track scale, by Mr. Dunlap, of the B. & O. Ry. Co. with their test car. This scale was found to be off more than is allowed by the State Law and Specifications. F. C. Albrecht, Chief Inspector, State of Ohio.

BULLETINS AVAILABLE

Several bulletins that will be of special value with the coming of early spring work on the farm are available from the Extension Department, Ohio State University.

Among those of seasonal importance available at this time are: "Transplanting," "Propagation of Plants," "Spraying Fruit Trees," "A Farm Garden," "Potato Growing," "Plant Food," "Drainage of Farm Lands," "A Corn Catachism" and "Varieties of Apples for Ohio." Others which will be of interest to women are "Sewing," "Meat," and "Cereals." These were written by authorities of the College of Agriculture and Domestic Science and are complete and comprehensive treatises of the subjects given.

They have been compiled with the idea that they will be used for practical application. In writing for the bulletins it should be designated which ones are desired. They may be obtained without cost by addressing A. B. Graham, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

IRON PRODUCTION BREAKS RECORD

Output of Mines Greater Than In Big Year 1910.

EIGHT PER CENT INCREASE.

Estimated That Sixty Million Long Tons Were Produced In Past Twelve Months—Leading Mines Show Great Increases—The Type of Ore That Was Mined.

New York.—The quantity of iron ore mined in the United States in 1913 is estimated to have been between 58,000,000 and 60,000,000 long tons. This estimate is based on preliminary reports from twenty-five of the largest iron producing districts, whose combined output is about 81 per cent of the total iron ore mined in 1912.

The average increase in output shown by these twenty-five companies was 8 per cent over that for 1912, and if this increase should be maintained by all the iron companies in the United States the total output of iron ore for 1913 should reach 59,500,000 long tons. At any rate, it appears almost certain that the former high record of iron ore mined, 57,014,096 long tons, in 1910, was surpassed in 1913.

In the Lake Superior district, where about 85 per cent of the domestic iron ore is mined, the increase in production corresponded closely with that for the United States in general, or about 8 per cent, thus indicating a total production for that district of about 50,000,000 long tons compared with 46,368,878 tons in 1912. The year 1913 is therefore a record year for production and shipments in this district also. The preliminary figures indicate that the shipments of Lake Superior ore by water will exceed 49,500,000 long tons, which, together with the all rail shipments of more than 800,000 tons, bring the figures for total shipments of lake ore very close to the tonnage of ore mined and indicate that not much change has occurred in the stocks of ore at the mines in the lake district. These stocks amounted at the close of 1912 to about 9,500,000 long tons of ore.

In the Birmingham (Ala.) district the production of iron ore in 1913, as indicated by the preliminary returns, was about 10 per cent greater than that for 1912. In Tennessee there was apparently a slight decrease and in North Carolina a slight increase. New Jersey and New York both showed slight increases, while Pennsylvania showed a slight decrease. In the Rocky mountain district of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico there was a slight decrease.

The types of iron ore produced commercially consist of red and specular hematite, brown ore, magnetite and siderite or spathic ore. Hematite constitutes about 90 per cent of the output. Only a very small fraction of 1 per cent of the output is siderite, the production of brown ore and magnetite together constituting nearly 10 per cent of the total.

Kidney Disease Due to Fear. Boston.—Fear or anger may turn so much sugar into a man's blood as to give him fatal kidney trouble, said Walter B. Cannon, professor of physiology at Harvard, in a lecture at the Harvard medical school. Many great disasters, Professor Cannon declared, were followed by outbreaks of kidney disease among survivors.

FORMER WASHINGTON WOMAN ENTERS CHICAGO POLITICS

Mrs. Rufus L. Deer a Candidate for Alderman on Democratic Ticket, Attracting Attention in Chicago Political Circles—Has Male Opponent for the Office She Seeks.

A recent issue of the Chicago Daily Tribune contains an excellent picture of Mrs. Rufus L. Deer, of Chicago, and an interesting statement of the candidacy of this former Washington woman for alderman of the Sixth ward.

Mrs. Deer is a daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Deer and has a number of relatives as well as many friends in this city, who will be greatly interested in the campaign.

"A little woman on a big platform," Mrs. Rufus L. Deer, democratic candidate for alderman of the Sixth ward, and president of the Democratic Woman's association of that district, today promulgated doctrines of democracy that she declares are the fundamental doctrines of feminism, asserting that the Democratic party is the only real "woman's party" in Illinois because of the fact that officers of the Democratic party in the state have been the first and only men in power to give to women any opportunity for entrance into public life.

"In her home, at 4330 St. Lawrence avenue, now campaign headquarters for the candidacy that she is making at the request of the men's as well as the women's Democratic organizations of the ward, Mrs. Deer forcibly projected the reasons why she is opposing the re-election of Alderman Willis O. Nance.

Mrs. Deer is a small and determined woman, whose brown eyes flash as she maintains her democracy. Her party stanchness is not of the David

B. Hill order, contenting himself with reiteration of the main fact that "I am a Democrat."

"She is not merely a Democrat by tradition, or by matrimony, but rather because of her zealous belief that the Democratic party, particularly in Illinois, has been the only political group which has endowed women with the right of equal suffrage.

"I'm a Democrat out of gratitude," is the main clause of Mrs. Deer's platform and one which she elaborates by a review of the main points of the suffrage of this state.

"The woman movement is essentially a Democratic movement," Mrs. Deer says, "not only in principles, but in the aid which it has received from the Democratic party in Illinois. If it had not been for the Democratic governor and the Democratic legislature, woman suffrage would not be an existing fact in Illinois today.

"For twenty years women had secured the introduction into the Springfield legislature of suffrage measures. Those bills never passed, even when they came up for consideration. Through Republican administration after Republican administration woman suffrage was kept a beggar at the gates.

"Mrs. Deer is going to make her fight in the Sixth upon strictly partisan lines. Although she believes in the ability of women to handle municipal housekeeping with greater success than men have shown, she is opposing Mr. Nance, not because he is a man, but because he is a Republican.

"Mrs. Deer is a member of the Woodlawn Woman's club, of the Martha Washington club, of the Allied Drug club, of the Tuesday Art and Travel league, the Illinois Woman's Democratic league and O'ive chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star."

LIBRARIAN TENDERS HER RESIGNATION

Miss Bess Kerr, whose engagement to Mr. W. J. Galvin was announced Tuesday, has tendered her resignation as librarian of the city Public Library, the resignation to take effect on Saturday, the 7th of February.

The Library board has not yet met to consider the resignation, but that it will be accepted with great regret is a foregone conclusion. Miss Kerr has filled the position of librarian for the past four years with rare capability, and has given to library patrons a never-failing courtesy and attention that has made her as popular as she has proved efficient.

SAYS MILITIA IS TOP HEAVY

General Mills Wants Troops Up to Army Standards.

WOULD INCREASE EFFICIENCY

In Annual Report He Favors Federal Pay Law and Theoretical Instruction. Coast Artillery Forces Are Weak. Many of the States Short of Rifles. 111,672 Men Inlisted at End of Year.

Washington.—Conditions in the organization of the militia of the country are, on the whole, far from satisfactory in organization, in strength and in training, according to Brigadier General A. L. Mills, chief of the division of militia affairs of the war department, in his annual report. In his opinion, the militia's organization is top heavy, incomplete and unbalanced; its strength is much below the important items necessary for field service, and its training is, on the average, far below the standard required for efficiency in time of need.

General Mills declares, however, that, despite a decrease in numerical strength in the militia, the past year was one of considerable progress and improvement. The loss in number has brought about increased efficiency, and he believes the result will be an increase in strength both in organizations and personnel.

General Mills believes that this improvement may be made more certain by enactment of a militia pay law. He strongly urges federal and state cooperation on the ground that the organized militia's welfare can be fostered only in that way. The time has arrived, he says, for the department to formulate a scheme for theoretical instruction of the militia of all the states.

Some of the states are severely criticized for failure to take proper care of government property. About $1,000,000 worth was dropped or carried on a suspended account. Of the total number of rifles on hand in one state there were not enough serviceable ones to equip the troops for target practice through sheer neglect. In another the number of rifles short would equip a regiment at peace strength.

General Mills urges arrangement of the militia upon a proportionate basis of the various arms and believes the quickest way of correcting the present condition lies in the conversion of sufficient of the infantry into the other arms to strike a balance. Any legislation should carry with it provision for a reserve to be given a limited amount of field training under pay.

The strength of the militia at the end of the fiscal year was 9,130 officers and 111,672 enlisted men, a net decrease of 12 officers and 1,038 enlisted men as compared with the preceding year.

For some unknown reason the department has failed to secure an increase in the coast artillery militia, and it is suggested that the law be amended to permit the secretary of war to allot the militia funds among the several arms of the service in proportion to the strength in which he considers they should be maintained.

FIND GIANTS' SKELETONS.

In Life They Averaged Twelve Feet in Height.

Winnsboro, La.—Skeletons of a race of giants who averaged twelve feet in height were found by workmen engaged on a drainage project at Crowville, near here.

There are several score at least of the skeletons, and they lie in various positions. It is believed they were killed in a prehistoric fight and that the bodies lay where they fell until covered with alluvial deposits due to the flooding of the Mississippi river.

No weapons of any sort were found, and it is believed the Titans must have struggled with wooden clubs. The skulls are in a perfect state of preservation, and some of the jawbones are large enough to fit around a baby's body.

Statement by Executive Committee

The Executive Committee of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign desires to record its unanimous adherence to the original purpose and plan of the campaign. The injection of any issue foreign to the actual purpose of this campaign should not be allowed to divert the public mind from our goal, or to diminish the faith of Christian people in the success of a movement already marked by the signal blessing of God. Let us concentrate our prayers and efforts upon the success of the Campaign, and give our loyal and unfailing support to our pastors and leaders.

The best thought of all is "God is with us" and then in the words of John 17:21 "That they all may be one; as thou, Father art in me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that Thou hast sent me."

The Executive Committee.

REV. WM. B. GAGE.

Boblitt's Statement

At the opening of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign, to win Fayette County for Christ, I was brought to this city by the Christian church, and was more than glad to co-operate in the union movement, with all my heart. It was, and is, my earnest hope that this Campaign shall bring many hundreds of souls to Christ in this community. The central purpose of this crusade, is primarily, and at all times, the preaching of God's Word, and the extension of God's Kingdom.

If through any fault of mine, or any mis-statement or misquotation, I have inadvertently injured any person or persons, in this community, I am most sincerely sorry, and I offer my heart-felt regret for the same, stating, in justice to myself and this Campaign, that I sought only the good of all men. May we all join our hearts and hands in what may, and should be made, the greatest soul stirring for Christ in this County.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

OHIO MOTHER OF EDUCATION IN THE WEST

Ohio possesses the title of the mother of education in the west.

At Athens it fostered and continues to support the first university established west of the Ohio river.

Congress endowed the institution with 46,000 acres of Ohio land from which at the beginning it derived an annual income of $5,000 and in 1804 the year following the admittance of Ohio into the union, the legislature granted it a charter and lent it financial aid. For some years it was closed while funds for its maintenance accumulated.

One of the most noted primary educators in history was for a time its president, William Holmes McGuffey, D. D., author of McGuffey's readers and spelling books, familiar to practically every school boy and girl in the country up to a decade ago, headed the university from 1839 to 1843.

From its portals, stepped the first collegiate alumnus in western America—Thomas Ewing, upon whom the university conferred the degree of bachelor of arts.

One of the most noted of officers of the institution was Moses Hewitt, born in Worcester, Mass., in 1767 and who came to Ohio in 1790. Although his learning consisted solely of reading and writing, Hewitt, because of his natural shrewdness, was able to profitably assist in the management of the funds and the lands of the institution. He knew nothing of the management of the literary department of the institution but his success as manager of the two townships of land from which the institution derived revenue made him famous.

Hewitt in his earlier days was an avowed enemy of the Indians, whom he frequently worsted because of his colossal strength. With one hand he could with ease lift a blacksmith's anvil by grasping it at the point, end.

A giant in stature, he possessed hands so small that once when captive of the Indians, he escaped by working them through though the Redmen had bound around his wrist.

STATE TO USE THE AUTO TAX

County Amendment to Warnes Measure Ruled Out.

BILL THEN PASSES BY 84 TO 30

Senate Accepts I. and R. Safeguard Proposition After Attempt Fails to Prevent It Going to Referendum. Primary Bill Gets Unanimous Vote in House—Governor's Right to Specify Particulars Challenged.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—By a vote of 84 to 30 the house passed the Warnes automobile tax bill. Republican members lined up solidly against it on the ground that Governor Cox had usurped authority not given him by the constitution when, in specifying that the automobile tax go to the highway department, he so restricted the freedom of action of the legislature that Speaker Swain could rule out of order, as he did, an amendment that the tax proceeds be expended for good roads by the county commissioners.

Mr. Conover of Champaign, who offered the county commissioner amendment, and Mr. Reid, the Republican leader, urged the house to assume its constitutional rights, which they declared the governor had usurped. Mr. Black of Hamilton, who championed the contention of the majority, held the house could not amplify the executive's recommendation and that the remedy for any encroachment on the legislature by the governor was to vote down the bills he proposed.

To sustain his position Mr. Reid quoted decisions of the Colorado supreme court construing the provisions of the constitution of that state, which is exactly similar to the Ohio constitution. He added: "If in the face of a precedent like that you can ignore an amendment like this, we have to conclude the executive department of state has become supreme and we are without a legislative branch."

Speaker Swain declared the Conover amendment not germane. He said the constitutional convention must have expected the Ohio provision to be construed closely as the delegates seemed to fear the legislature might not think it had even right to provide for incidental expenses of the session unless distinctly expressed and so had done so.

The position of the speaker was sustained by a vote of 70 to 39, 10 Democrats voting with the Republicans.

I. and R. Safeguarded.

Though Democratic members of the senate applauded the merits of the initiative and referendum as a principle of government, they attempted to take away the right of referendum on the Weygant initiative and referendum safeguards measure which had passed a moment before without a dissenting vote. In this attempt they were frustrated by Republican members and Senator James P. Seward of Richland county, a Democrat.

The bill carried an emergency clause which would have made the measure a law immediately on being signed by the governor, instead of lying the statutory 90 days to permit of a referendum. By Senator Seward voting with the seven Republicans against the adoption of the emergency clause, one vote of the necessary two-thirds was lacking to enact the clause.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Information has come to this government to the effect that President Huerta of Mexico has been obtaining his supply of arms recently from Japanese sources. The rifles which he has been getting are, it is said, those which were used in the Japanese war with Russia. CLAIMS ORDER WRECKED ROAD

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 28.—Colonel A. R. Lawton, vice president of the Central of Georgia railroad and head of its legal department, told the congressional investigating committee that Federal Judge Emory Speer, whose conduct is under probe by the committee, wrecked the old Central of Georgia railroad property by signing a "midnight order" throwing its affairs into court when the road was absolutely solvent and the stock was bringing $210 a share. Colonel Lawton's narrative was one of the most sensational statements made during the hearing.

Colonel Lawton stated that the affairs of the road and its extensive properties were in a flourishing condition in 1890 when an order was issued to appear in the court of Judge Speer to show cause why a receiver should not be named. The order had been signed at Macon on the previous night, he said, without giving the company or its representatives time to make any statements.

VANDERBILT YACHT IS ON THE ROCKS

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—The steel yacht Warrior, owned by Frederick W. Vanderbilt, is on the rocks off the coast of Colombia, according to a wireless message received here. On the yacht were F. W. Vanderbilt and wife, Lord Falconer and the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, in addition to the crew. The radiogram stated that the Warrior struck the rocks at Cape Aguata, near Savanilla. When the Warrior struck on the rocks she was en route to Colon, where Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and their guests intended to spend some time inspecting the Panama canal. The Warrior is 255 feet in length, 1,697 gross tonnage, and is equipped with wireless.

A radiogram received later stated the Vanderbilt party were taken off the yacht by the United Fruit steamer Frutera and transferred to the steamer Mirante, bound for New York via Colon. The crew remained on board. The yacht is said to be in a fairly safe position.

Interstate Commerce Commission's Tap Line Decision.

STEEL COMPANIES AFFECTED

Held by the Commission That Certain Allowances Amount to Rebates and Must Be Discontinued—Several Ohio Plants Hit by the Decision. Other Industries To Be Included Later On.

Washington Jan. 28.—The interstate commerce commission handed down a decision which is of great importance in connection with the pending request of the railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission refers directly to the advance rate case and for the first time announces that it will not shirk the responsibility of granting a general advance provided the railroads are able to show that this is necessary in order to insure a fair return to investors.

The commission takes occasion to warn the railroads that they must conserve the sources of revenue which they now have. As a step in helping them to do this, the commission holds that certain allowances, including remission of demurrage charges, division of rates and per diem claims made to the iron and steel industry, amount to rebates, and will have to be discontinued.

Through this decision the commission, it is estimated, adds $15,000,000 a year to the revenues of the railroads affected. These include the railroads in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers. The United States Steel corporation is the hardest hit of the concerns that have been enjoying these favors from the railroads.

The case decided by the commission relates only to the iron and steel industries, but it is not finished and will include all industries having plant railways.

The allowances objected to are made by the trunk lines to industries that own and operate such plant lines in connection with their industrialisms.

Among the plants affected by the tap line decision are the following: The Pittsburg Steel company, Republic Iron and Steel company, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, United Iron and Steel company, Cleveland Furnace company, Pressed Steel Car company, and the United States Steel corporation.

TENANTS VIEW VASSAR'S GHOST

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The ghost of Matthew Vassar, founder of Vassar college, is asserted to be haunting an old homestead farmhouse once owned by him on the New Hackensack road, between Red Oak hills and New Hackensack. Within the past four months three families have moved from the place in terror. The present owner, who scoffs at the report, has nevertheless placed "for sale" signs on the old residence, as no one will rent the house.

Henry L. Stonebridge of Schenectady, who turned farmer for his health, moved from the house last Saturday. The spectacle of the ghost standing at the foot of the bed occupied by Stonebridge and his wife was too much for them, they said. The spirit, they assert, resembled exactly photographs in existence of Matthew Vassar.

OHIO CASE AIRED

Washington, Jan. 28.—Arguments are being made in the supreme court today in the case to determine whether or not the Ohio statute prohibiting the employment of women for more than nine hours a day, or a total of 54 hours a week, is good law. The Ohio Manufacturers' association, which is trying to get the law knocked out, carried the case to Washington from the Ohio supreme court, which held the act constitutional.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COUGHS OR COLDS.

Many Have Filled Consumptive Graves Because They Neglected a Cough or Cold.

You never know how soon a cold will become a serious malady. It may be in the head to-day; in the lungs to-morrow and the next day you may be fighting deadly pneumonia for your life. It's much the same with a cough. Inflamed and cough-worn throat and lungs offer the best chance to consumption germs to begin their murderous work. There's only one way to prevent these deadly diseases getting a hold on you. As soon as a cough or cold attacks you, take Dr. King's New Discovery until you are entirely cured. Sometimes a dose or two will do the business, saving you suffering and a doctor's bill. Thousands of cures like these below prove its wonderful power to cure coughs and colds.

"I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton,

Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption to-day, if I had not used this great remedy."

"I take great pleasure in recommending your Dr. King's New Discovery for the benefit of suffering humanity. It's a thoroughly reliable remedy for all coughs, croup and lung troubles. We have used it in our family for fourteen years with the best results. It saved my mother when two doctors gave her up. She had a very severe case of pneumonia and was in bed seven weeks and part of the time 'out of her mind' so that she did not know me. I told father to get me two 50c bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, which he did, and on taking it she soon began to improve, and four bottles cured her entirely. SWEEPING ORDER REQUIRES THE GRADING OF ALL CORN

Farmers Must Raise Better Corn and Market It in Better Condition or Be Graded High and Receive Low Price—United States Department of Agriculture Establishes Grades and Farmers and Grain Dealers are Uncertain Just What Effect Will Be.

Beginning July 1st, this year, all corn placed upon the market by farmers throughout the United States must be graded, and prices paid accordingly, and grain dealers are now trying to figure out what effect the new Federal order will have on the buying and selling of corn.

The order is a sweeping one, and one which has never before been faced by the farmer and grain dealers.

All corn must be graded as soon as received at the elevators, and unless there is a radical change in the manner of marketing corn, some very poor prices will be paid to Mr. Farmer for corn which contains an abundance of moisture, while the farmer who raises a good quality of corn and markets it in dry condition, will receive top prices for it.

There are seven grades established by the government, and it may be surprising to many farmers to know that the average grade at present is No. 3 or worse, and No. 3 contains 17.5 per cent moisture, while the first grade drops down to 14 per cent. Grade No. 6 contains 23 per cent of moisture.

It is expected that some confusion will result at the time the order becomes effective, owing to no difference in price having been fixed by the government officials, for the various grades.

The grain dealers must also be equipped to separate the various grades when received, instead of dumping them all into the elevator together.

All grain dealers and farmers will be interested in the following treatise upon the subject issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, and which says in part:

EFFECT ON FARMERS.

The anticipated effect of these grades is thus described by the Secretary of Agriculture in his annual report for the year 1913:

Definite standards for the grading of commercial corn and the uniform application of such standards in all markets under suitable Government supervision would be of direct value to our corn growers, in that such standardization would encourage the marketing of dry corn of better quality. Heretofore it has been the common practice to pay practically the same price for all corn delivered at country stations, regardless of its water content or of its soundness. Farmers have not been slow to grasp the situation, and under such a system have naturally made but little effort to market corn in a dry and sound condition. The system has placed a premium on poor and careless farming at the expense of good farm methods and practices.

Under a definite system of grading and the elimination of such terms as "reasonably dry" and "reasonably clean," the farmer as well as the grain dealer will be able to know and fully understand the requirements for the different grades. With a knowledge of the grade requirements the farmer who markets dry corn of good quality will be in a position to demand a premium for such corn. It will not be necessary for him to accept a No. 4 price for corn which he sells under a grade designation of No. 3. He will then have some encouragement to exercise greater care in the harvesting, storing, and marketing of his corn; he can likewise ascertain in advance of sale with a fair degree of accuracy the grade of his corn while in the crib, and, thus not market it until it is sufficiently dry to meet the requirements of a higher grade. The way will be open for real progress in the movement for the production of more corn of better quality, and farmers who grow corn primarily for market will have an incentive to grow earlier maturing varieties, which will contain less moisture when marketed and can be sold at a premium. Likewise, the country shipper will be in a position to pay a premium for good corn, in that he, in turn, will have the assurance of the same definite system of grading regardless of the market to which he ships.

GENERAL RULES.

1. The corn in grades No. 1 to No. 5, inclusive, must be sweet.
2. White corn, all grades, shall be at least 98 per cent white.
3. Yellow corn, all grades

- shall be at least 95 per cent yellow.
 4. Mixed corn, all grades, shall include corn of various colors, not coming within the limits for color as provided for under white or yellow corn.
 5. In addition to the various limits indicated, No. 6 corn may be musty, sour, and may also include corn of inferior quality, such as immature and badly blistered.
 6. Corn that does not meet the requirements of either of the six numerical grades by reason of an excessive percentage of moisture, damaged kernels, foreign matter or "cracked" corn, or corn that is heat damaged, fire burnt, infested with live weevil, or otherwise of distinctly low quality, shall be classed as sample grade.
 7. In No. 6 and sample grade, reasons for so grading shall be stated on the inspector's certificate.
 8. Finely broken corn shall include all broken particles of corn that will pass through a perforated metal sieve with round holes nine sixty-fourths of an inch in diameter.
 9. "Cracked" corn shall include coarsely broken pieces of kernels all that will pass through a perforated metal sieve with round holes one-quarter of an inch in diameter, except that the finely broken corn as provided for under Rule 8 shall not be considered as "cracked" corn.
 10. It is understood that the damaged corn; the foreign material, including pieces of cob, dirt, finely broken corn, other grains, etc.; and the coarsely broken or "cracked" corn, as provided for under the various grades, shall be such as occur naturally in corn when handled under good commercial conditions.
 11. Moisture percentages, as provided for in these grade specifications, shall conform to results obtained by the standard method and tester as described in Circular 72, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture.
- In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture this 3rd day of January, 1914.
- B. T. GALLOWAY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TRAIN CAPTURED BY THE BANDITS

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 28.—A Mexican Northwestern mixed train was captured by Maximo Castillo's bandits below Guzman. Castillo was at one time chief of Francisco Madero's bodyguard. The train left Juarez for Madero. A section foreman telegraphed from Guzman that the train had been captured, a bridge burned below Guzman and the telegraph wire cut below that station in the vicinity of the American Mormon colonies. The train was composed of passenger and freight cars and carried several American ranchers and cattlemen who were going to western Chihuahua to look after their interests. Some concern is felt for the safety of the Americans on the train because of Castillo's order to his bandits to shoot all Americans who return to their ranches in the western part of the state, which he controls.

Castillo's band is said to be growing every day. As the former federal who deserted at Ojinaga and Presidio are joining him, he is said to have more than 100 men at the present time. It is also believed that many ex-prisoners from Fort Bliss are joining the Castillo crowd in western Chihuahua.

General Villa's rebel force at Juarez left for the south to search for the bandits. Villa guaranteed protection to the trains of this American-Canadian owned railway.

WELLSVILLE DRY

Wellsville, O., Jan. 28.—The local option election in this city was won by the dries by 71 majority. The vote was: Dry, 975; wet, 904. The announcement of the result of the election was followed by a big demonstration.

STRADDLES STOVE

Kenton, O., Jan. 28.—Flagman R. Reems was badly burned and otherwise injured when the caboose of an Ohio Central train jumped the track and rolled over four times down an embankment. Reems straddled the hot stove as the car turned over.

BOLD HOLDUP

Toledo, O., Jan. 28.—While scores of persons were in the immediate vicinity, W. C. Worrell, 66, proprietor of a cigar store, was held up by two men, who beat him with blouses until he was nearly insensible and robbed him of more than $50.

FATAL DISPUTE

Sandusky, O., Jan. 28.—Alex Osovesky, 26, railroad engineer at Lakeside, is dying from a bullet wound in his temple, self-inflicted. He drove his family out of the house with a revolver and then shot himself. Domestic trouble was the cause.

MUSKET EXPLODES

Upper Sandusky, O., Jan. 28.—When William Benjamin, a farmer, received a telephone call from a neighbor, I. L. Searfoss, saying that his home was being burglarized, he got down his old army musket and accidentally discharged it, blowing off his hand. The burglars escaped.

To prevent the starched bosom of a dress shirt from climbing out over the top of a low-cut vest, an inventor has brought out a shirt that is combined with a pair of short drawers.

COLDS TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. If there is sneezing and chilliness with hoarseness, tickling throat and coughing, begin promptly the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is effective, pleasant to take, checks a cold, and stops the cough which causes loss of sleep and lowers the vital resistance. Blackmer & Tanquary.

CITY MANAGER CUTS EXPENSES

Springfield, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Un- less kept on the police force in some capacity other than inspector, Arthur Spiker, for four years assistant chief, will leave the force, as his office of inspector was abolished with that of twelve other officials in the police department at Monday night's session of the city commission.

One inspector, one bailiff, two sergeants, one guard at the city prison and seven patrolmen were wiped off the city payroll when a resolution abolishing their jobs were adopted. The men to go from the force were not named, but they will be selected at a later time by the chief, whoever he may be, and Manager Ashburner. Chief O'Brien may or may not be retained, was the way Mr. Ashburner put it last night and that did not mean very much.

The positions left in the department are: one chief, three sergeants, four detectives, two station house patrolmen, one matron, 25 patrolmen.

TILLABLE LAND NOT BEING USED

United States Department of Agriculture Claims There Are 829,000,000 Acres of the Land That is Not Available For Any Form of Agriculture.

Only 27 per cent of the tillable land of the United States is actually under cultivation, according to estimates of the Department of Agriculture, based upon reports of 35,000 correspondents. These reports were obtained in order to gain information as to the tillable area of the United States, the amount of land that can not be used for crops that have to be plowed but available for pasture or fruits, and the total number of acres that never can be used for agricultural purposes. From the returns, which were generally very consistent, preliminary estimates have been made for each state and for the United States. Further investigation in the Far Western states may modify somewhat the present estimates for those states.

The entire United States excluding foreign possessions, contains about 1,900,000,000 acres. Of this area about 60 per cent, or 1,140,000,000 acres, is estimated to be tillable; that is, capable of being brought under cultivation by means of the plow. This includes land already under such cultivation and that which in the future may be brought under cultivation by clearing, drainage, irrigation, etc.

Three hundred and sixty one million acres, or 19 per cent, are estimated to be non-tillable but valuable for pasture or fruits. Only 21 per cent, or 399,000,000 acres, was estimated to be of no use for agriculture present or future.

According to the census of 1910, the land area in crops where acreage was given was 311,000,000 acres. This is about 16 per cent of the total land area, or about 27 per cent of the estimated potential tillable area of the United States, excluding foreign possessions.

In other words, for every 100 acres that are now filled, about 375 acres may be tilled when the country is fully developed. In the development of the agriculture of the country the land which was most easily brought into a state of cultivation as the great Mississippi Valley, was the first to be brought into such use. Extensions of tilled area will be at greater expense for clearing, drainage, irrigation, etc. The increased production of the future will be the result of increased yields per acre as well as extension of area.

DEATH ENDS FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

EX-SENATOR SHELBY MOORE CULLOM DIES TODAY AT NATIONAL CAPITAL WHERE HE SPENT MANY YEARS IN PUBLIC LIFE.

FROM PLOUGH BOY TO SENATE CHAMBER

HAS TAKEN PROMINENT PART IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS SINCE 1855, WHEN STARTED IN AS AN ATTORNEY—WAS FORMER GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Former Senator Shelby M. Cullom, of Illinois, died here today after an illness of more than a week, during which time he hovered between life and death. His last words expressed a wish that he might have lived to see the completion of the National Memorial to Abraham Lincoln, who was his personal friend.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Shelby Moore Cullom's death ended fifty years of continuous public service that had made him a figure in American national life and brought him into public relations with every President from Abraham Lincoln to Woodrow Wilson. President Taft once said of him:

"Why, here's my old friend Uncle Shelby; he comes nearer connecting the present with the days of Washington than any one else whom I know."

As a ploughboy driving his father's oxen over the fresh prairies of Illinois, he had known and talked with survivors of the Revolution and on the rugged foundations of a life begun in pioneer hardships of a family of twelve children had built a career that took him to the Illinois Legislature as a member; speaker of the Assembly, two terms in the governor's chair, service in the National House of Representatives, and thirty consecutive years in the United States Senate.

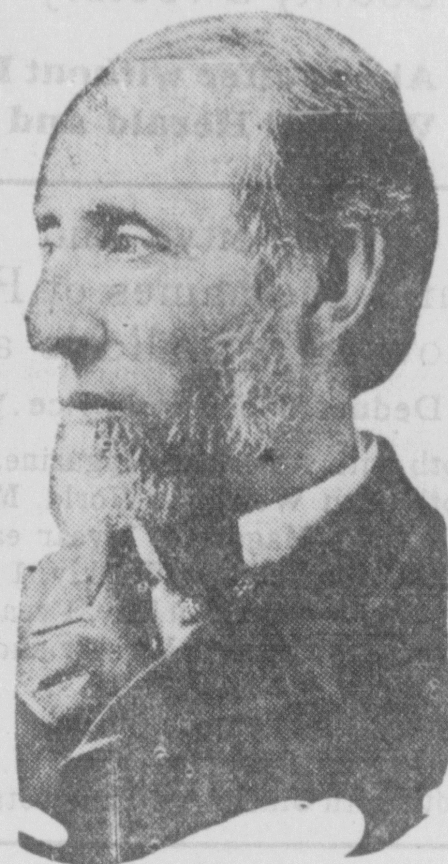

His nearest living contemporary probably is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, whose senior he was some seven years by birth and some three years in national service.

Scraping together the rudiments of an education gained by toiling over rough primeval roads, he became successfully a student at Mount Morris Academy, a country school teacher and a lawyer, being admitted to the bar at Springfield in 1855.

Lincoln was assassinated soon after Cullom entered Washington life and the young legislator was a member of the committee that demanded the return of the President's body to Springfield. Then when the country began to recover from what seemed a final blow and the reconstruction set in with the Thirty-ninth Congress, Cullom began his service with the Illinois delegation and with such colleagues in Congress as Logan, Wentworth, Blaine, Conkling and Hayes and Garfield, both of whom attained the Presidency.

After six years in the House during which he had seen the impeachment of Andrew Johnson and taken part in the making of a most critical period of American history, he returned to Illinois vowing never again to take office, only to become speaker of the legislature and later governor. At the Philadelphia convention he placed Grant in nomination for his second term which is said to be the shortest nominating speech ever delivered. It contained seventy-five words.

Cullom's career as a United States Senator began in 1883 when he resigned as governor and was elected to succeed David Davis. His service in the Senate chamber was an unbroken one for thirty years, five consecutive terms, a record excelled only by two other men, Senator Allison, of Iowa, and Senator Morrill, of Vermont. He entered the Senate in 1883, a spry, active man of fifty-four, he left it in 1913, and he was appointed chair of the Lincoln Memorial Commission created by Congress to superintend the erection of the $2,000,000 memorial in this city. The one wish expressed on his death bed was that he might live to see the completion of the national memorial to his old friend.

THIEF LEAPS FROM TRAIN

By Associated Press.

Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Harry Warner, who says his home is in Salesville, Guernsey county, jumped off a B. & O. passenger train at three o'clock this morning, wearing two overcoats and carrying a lady's hand bag which contained a gentleman's gold watch.

He was arrested and held until two passengers on the train were aroused and identified one overcoat and the watch. He was then placed in the city prison where he is being held pending an investigation.

George Anderson, Thomas Slayton, Charles Lloyd and Charles Sipe, of Cambridge, Ohio, were arrested today and held in the city prison on suspicion, they having come from Cambridge on the B. & O. train No. 105. They are all well known in Cambridge and deny any knowledge of the robbery.

GRAND JURY RESUMES WORK

By Associated Press.

Houghton, Mich., January 28.—After a recess of two days, the special grand jury investigating the copper mine disorders resumed its deliberations today. It was understood that further inquiry was being made into the Painesdale case in which three non-union miners, British subjects, were murdered in their beds in the dead of night.

BURGULARS TAKE NAP; NOW OCCUPY CELLS.

New York, Jan. 28.—Three industrious burglars are locked up after a hard night's work in a Grand street store. They toiled hard and at last they had 20 bundles of underwear tied up and ready to move when their carriage came, which had been ordered at 5:30 a. m. The burglars set an alarm clock for 5:30 and took a nap. But at 5 o'clock an employee in the loft came to work, an hour ahead of time. He saw the burglars and called the police, who arrived just as the alarm went off.

REBELS TAKE CITY

By Associated Press.

El Paso, Texas, January 28.—The capture by Rebels of the City of Concepcion De Loro in the state of Zacatecas, together with its garrison of 400 Federals was reported to Rebel headquarters today. General Gutierrez, who commanded the Rebels gave no details of the battle, except to say it occurred last Monday and that 100 Federals reinforced from Saltillo also were taken. The city has a population of 25,000 and is in the center of a rich mining district. The capture gives the Rebels undisputed control over a stretch of 400 miles additional territory in northern Mexico.

YACHT MAY BE LOST

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—All during the night and early today the two wireless stations at this point were silent as to the fate of Frederick W. Vanderbilt's yacht, the "Warrior," which went aground on the coast of Columbia yesterday.

Operators of the two companies were calling the Warrior almost continuously all night, but received no answer. This is not considered as sufficient evidence that the Warrior has been lost, as its wireless equipment was of small power.

When last heard of the Warrior was in a dangerous condition.

Frederick W. Vanderbilt and party among them the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, will come direct to New York on board the United Fruit steamer Almirante, leaving the Vanderbilt yacht Warrior stranded off the northwest coast of Columbia. Word to that effect was received here today by the United Fruit Company from Captain W. H. Devan.

RADIUM RUSH ON NEW LAW SOUGHT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Spurred by reports that prospectors have started a "radium rush" to the Carnate lands of Colorado and Utah, the House Mines Committee today hurriedly closed its hearings and began preparing a bill for government control of the nation's radium output. It will not withdraw radium lands from private entry, but will reserve to the government the right to buy and reduce all radium ores in a government reducing plant, probably at Denver. The new bill will be introduced late today or tomorrow and an effort will be made to get a special rule to expedite its passage through the House.

TAFT URGES MORE TRAINING

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Former president William Howard Taft left early today for Canada, after urging members of the Yale Alumni Association here last night that the younger generation should be trained in political principles.

"I don't like to be regarded as an old fogey," he said, "and I don't think I am. We are in a transitory period, which in many respects represents a crisis in the national career. We should see that the coming generation does not lightly let go of what centuries have given to us of sound political principles."

REPUBLICANS WANT FIRST HAND DOPE

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 28.—Republicans of the House and Senate today announced they had decided to conduct "first hand" investigations of the vouchers in the State Auditor's Department to determine how monies of the governor's contingent fund were expended last summer in investigating referendum frauds. This action is in accordance with the governor's invitation to go into the voucher files. The Republicans expect to hold another caucus late today.

WARSHIP IS RUSHING TOWARD HAITI CAPITAL

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Under forced draft the big United States Battleship South Carolina, is rushing across the seas toward Port Au Prince, Haiti, to join her blue jackets and marines with those of the Montana for the protection of Americans and others in Haiti.

Left without government by the sudden departure of the president, the island Republic is threatened with anarchy.

Captain Russel, of the South Carolina, will be Senior Naval Officer on the scene, and will take whatever measures are necessary to protect the foreigners and their property, without orders from Washington.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 28.—

Armed detachments of American marines from the Montana are today on guard at the American Legation, the cable station and French hospital. German blue-jackets and marines have been placed to protect the other foreign legations and the German stores.

Large landing parties were sent ashore from the American and German war vessels when President Michael Oreste left for refuge on the German cruiser, Vineta, after fighting broke out in the streets of the capital.

Fusillades continued in all parts of the city throughout the night and numerous attempts at pillage of houses and stores, but these were quickly suppressed and today the city is quiet.

THREE MEN EXAMINED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 28.—Three witnesses were examined by the Kramer Investigating committee at a short session this morning to determine whether they had drawn pay for holding other state positions while members of the Legislature. Representative Brown, of Ashland, said he was employed for 18 days by the State Agriculture Commission as an inspector of food stuffs during 1912.

Representative Black of Wyandot, said he was secretary of the Penitentiary Site Commission last fall, but that he drew no money for the work. Representative Cappelle of Hamilton said that the first of January this year he was employed as an assistant to the prosecutor of Hamilton county to look after matters arising from provisions of the tax law. Cappelle said he asked Attorney General Hogan for his opinion as to whether he could hold the position and that the Attorney General told him that while the law itself probably was not violated, holding the position violated the spirit of the law.

Representative Brennen, of Cuyahoga county, said he served as "emergency inspector" for the Cuyahoga County Liquor License Board during October and November and drew $111 for his work. His duties he said, were to visit saloons and make recommendations to the commissioners as to whether licenses should be granted.

MINERS CHEER ANNOUNCEMENT

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 28.—Announcements made by President John P. White, that two resolutions providing for federal investigation of the strikes in Colorado and Michigan had passed the lower House of Congress by a large majority, was greeted with prolonged cheers today by the delegates attending the convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The attempt to curtail the appointive power of the International President by changing the constitution, failed when it came to a vote today.

Washington, Jan. 28.—A sweeping investigation of strike conditions in the coal fields of Colorado and the copper district of Michigan was authorized by the house. Hearings will be conducted in the strike regions by a subcommittee.

STRIKE LEADERS ARE DEPORTED

By Associated Press.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Jan. 28.—The deportation from South Africa of ten prominent labor leaders was carried out so quietly last night that little was known of the occurrence in South Africa today.

The men who had taken a prominent part in the recent strike arrived in Dunbar under heavy guard, and at midnight were placed on board a steamer which sailed at once for England.

THIRD WEEK OF CAMPAIGN PROMISES GREAT RESULTS

Thirty Confessions Made in the City Last Night, When Personal Workers Get Busy and Assist Ministers—Young Man Who Recently Took Stand For Christ Has Heart to Heart Talk With Companions in Restaurant—Dr. Shaw Leaves.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

It was in a local restaurant last night that this happened. A group of half a dozen men had been discussing the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign. Somehow men are discussing it everywhere. Religion has become a general topic of conversation. Into the restaurant came a young man, and at his appearance the conversation ceased with a rather awkward abruptness.

"I say", ventured one of the men who had been taking an active part in the conversation, as he laid a hand on the shoulder of the newcomer, "they tell me you have hit the trail. Is it right?"

The young man flushed, and then faced the group. "Yes, it is right, boys!" he said quietly. "And what is more, I mean to stick to it! I heard Callahan last Sunday, and he put the thing up before me in a way that I couldn't get away from. That man, Callahan, certainly is a wonder."

The silence fell again as the others watched him dubiously. Finally the young man turned again. "By the way, why don't you fellows follow my example? There isn't a man in this town who doesn't know deep down in his heart that he is making a hopeless fight without help from God. You may not admit it, but when things get blue, and everything goes dead wrong, you think you are mighty much alone. You feel that you need something, something that the fellow you have been chumming around with can't give you. What you are hungry for is something to buck you up, and help you go on, and keep you doing things. And I believe I found just what I have been hungry for years when I took Callahan's hand and told him that I was going to take Christ into my life. You had better think it over, you fellows. And why not go out to church tomorrow night?"

This simple, homely little appeal shows something of the spirit that the evangelistic campaign is generating in this community. It is getting under the surface of men and things, a little slowly maybe, but with a definiteness that promises some stirring results before the movement is over.

More than thirty confessions and church accessions were added to the record of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign at the services of local churches last evening. The result exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the executive committee, and building on the enthusiasm manifested last night, they believe that this week will prove not only the banner week of the movement, but that it may establish a number of new church records in this community.

As a rule the first service of the week lacks fire and spirit. Contrary to this precedent, the meetings in every church last night showed perhaps the greatest personal interest of the campaign. In one church alone there were sixteen confessions, following a record of twenty at its last previous service.

A hopeful feature last night was the activity of the personal workers. There were instances in every church of men and women taking the message of the gospel to others, in the pews, and in several cases with so successful results that they added greatly to the results of the evening. It was not alone the preacher, but the men and women in the pews that made the splendid record of the evening, and it is believed that the activities of the personal workers will be even more pronounced during the remainder of the week.

The services at the Palace Theater at noon each day, and at the various local shops and stores will be pushed with even greater zeal from now on. A stirring program is being planned for next Sunday as the culmination of the week. While the schedule has not yet been completed in detail, it may be said that it will offer a wide appeal.

A well known business man declared last night that in his opinion the real results of the campaign are only just beginning, and that he confidently expects a revival that will reach over the whole state before the movement is completed.

Another record-breaking crowd gathered at the Christian church last night, and every part of the building was filled to its greatest capacity. With the confessions last night, the number of conversions and accessions to date in this one church has reached the total of ninety, with the interest steadily increasing.

A remarkable record has been set at the Christian church by the steady attendance of both the senior and the junior choirs. At the beginning of the third week, the attendance of both choirs shows not the slightest falling off on any evening of the meeting. An average attendance of eight members has been maintained through the whole campaign.

A beautiful duet was given by Mrs. Campbell and Miss Mabel A. Jones, assisted in the chorus by Clifford Irvin and Melwood Hostetler.

Rev. Hostetler gave a powerful sermon on "The Mission of Jesus in the World." He declared that the mission of Christ on earth was not among the rich and educated alone, but that he went among the poor and lowly. He not only ate with sinners, but went to the homes of sinners. "Jesus", he said, "has always been the sinner's friend. As he forgave the sinful woman who washed his feet with her tears and dried them with her hair, so he will come to the vilest and lowest of sinners today if they will open their lives to receive him."

In answer to scores of requests, Mr. McCracken, of Columbus, repeated his solo, "My Mother's Beautiful Hands", at the close of the service. The rite of baptism was given to a number after the meeting.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
A large and inspiring attendance opened the third week's services at the Baptist church. Rev. Henry Brandt has returned from his visit in Wilmington, and gave a vital, forceful sermon on "The Lamb of God That Taketh Away the Sin of the World". He pointed out that the main thing about the character of Jesus is not that he is a great prophet, or the world's best man, or even that he is the personal, individual friend of every man, but that he is the world's sin-bearer and Saviour. He has taken away the sin of the world in two ways," said Mr. Brandt, "by taking its burden on himself and bearing it in our place, and by carrying it away from us so that we may be cleansed and regenerated." The subject of Mr. Brandt this evening will be "The New Testament Command to Repent."

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.
One of the most enthusiastic services of the campaign was held at the Grace M. E. church last night. Not only was there a large audience but a spirit of unusual earnestness and zeal was manifested all through the service. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas led a song program of much force, and Mr. Ross delivered a sermon that went straight to the hearts of his hearers. Such was the appeal that one of the largest numbers of confessions which this church has had during the campaign resulted.

There is every indication that one of the most stirring records for years in Grace M. E. church will be the result of this week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
It is with a sense of real personal loss that the congregation of the Presbyterian church sees the date of Dr. Shaw's departure for his home in Jamestown. Dr. Shaw has preached a series of arresting sermons that have gripped his hearers without being in any sense spectacular or sensational. The appeal of Dr. Shaw has been not only to the head but to the heart, and his own personality and earnestness have given unusual force to his messages. He will leave for his home this evening, and the local pastor, Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage, will fill the pulpit for the remainder of the week.

CLERK IN BAD

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Albert S. Pettit, a clerk in the Richmond Hill postoffice, was arrested on the charge of embezzlement from the mails. Pettit, whose father is assistant postmaster in the same office, was brought before Commissioner Cochran for arraignment. According to the inspectors he confessed to extensive thefts.

THIS MAIL CARRIER HAS SOME JOB

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 28.—After throwing up his hands in despair and calling for aid when three car loads of ore in 50-pound packages, shipped by parcel post, were handed him to deliver recently, the contractor who handles the mail between Stites and Elk City, Idaho, is expected to succumb when he begins to receive from Spokane a 50,000-pound parcel post shipment of groceries over the same route.

Stites is on the railroad and Elk City is not, and the parcel post shipments are carried 60 miles by a government carrier between the two points. He has been using light wagons, but may have to engage a battery of automobile freighters if business picks up. The grocery shipment comprises 1,000 50-pound packages, and goes at the rate of 54 cents for 50 pounds.

To top it off, it is understood the Elk City retailer expects to have dry goods and hardware supplies shipped by parcel post from Spokane.

WIRELESS INSTALLED ON FAST TRAIN

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The successful attempt to send a wireless message from a fast moving train which took place in November, 1913 on a Lackawanna train between Hoboken, N. J., and Buffalo, N. Y., has been so pronounced that it is the intention of the Lackawanna Railroad to install the system on the second train running between those two points so that there will be communication with the trains running to and from New York.

The station in the trains takes up no more room than the ordinary lavatory, and this special feature is of particular importance to the railroads. The stations at Scranton and Binghamton have an operating radius of 300 miles. The antenna at Binghamton is supported by one tower. Both these towers are located on the roofs of the stations.

At all times the communication between stations is perfect, and even when the train is running at the rate of 55 miles an hour communication is kept up. The test thus far has shown that the system in use on the railroads will be a great time-saving device by assuring that trains will always be in communication at any speed and at any distance from stations regardless of "line breaks" from winter blizzards, washouts, fogs or other extraordinary conditions.

In Man's Interest

The advancement of the rights and the preservation and endowment of the opportunities of individual man is the underlying cause for almost all of the present legislation in the nation and in the several states.

This nation is too big, the resources yet to be developed are too immense and of too much value to humanity to permit any unjust action antagonistic to property.

On the other hand there are too many millions of individuals who must live and who are entitled to prosper and advance intellectually and morally to devote all of the energy in enacting and executing laws in the interest of property.

The parcels post laws, the anti-trust laws enacted and suggested, the laws for an eight hour working day, mothers' pensions, workmen's compensation, pensions for the blind, good roads, compulsory arbitration, compelling the use of safety appliances on dangerous machinery, child labor laws, enlargement and improvement of the free school system and a host of others of similar nature and import are not antagonistic to property, but for the advancement of the interests of humanity.

The ruling spirit of the present time is the welfare of man and whoever fails to recognize that fact is decidedly out of tune with the trend of public opinion.

The majority are now insisting that the rights of men be taken into consideration and that, until the rights of the individual are brought, by legislative and executive action, to a level with the advanced stage now occupied by property, the whole attention and the best efforts of the lawmaking powers, be devoted to that end.

Mere material prosperity has ceased longer to satisfy the people.

True they do not desire to have property rights transgressed—they do not demand and would resent any legislation destructive of present prosperity, but at the same time they are demanding of officials that humanity, in the mass, be given consideration.

In that condition, which all thinking men now admit exists, is to be found the reason for a demand for a change which rolled over the nation like a tidal wave in spite of the fact that the nation was enjoying a material prosperity never before equalled.

Statesmen of the present day if they meet the demands of the people, have no easy task, and statesmen these days—public servants at least—are held to strict accountability by the people who watch and understand more than ever before.

Predatory wealth must be checked and yet property rights must not be disturbed.

Everything but Dreadnoughts Can Now Pass Through Panama Canal

By Colonel GEORGE W. GOETHALS, Builder of Panama Canal

A CHANNEL one hundred feet wide and twenty-five feet deep, sufficient to permit the PASSAGE OF ANY VESSEL IN OUR NAVY EXCEPT THE DREADNOUGHTS, now exists through the Cucaracha slide. If it were necessary we could send ships through the canal tomorrow.

EXCAVATION IS ADVANCING AT A RATE OF FIFTEEN THOUSAND CUBIC YARDS A DAY, AND THERE IS EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THE ENTIRE SLIDE WILL BE REMOVED BEFORE JULY.

Except for the work at the terminals the construction of the CANAL IS FINISHED. In the year 1914 I expect to see the canal thrown open to navigation and the ships of many nations using it.

Big Armies For Burglary Insurance

By Dr. INGE, Dean of St. Paul's Church, London

MODERN Europeans are not a warlike people. The true fighting man trusts to his own right arm to defend himself when the time comes. It is the OLD, RICH AND TIMOROUS NATIONS which guard themselves laboriously against enemies, of which there is not a sign in Europe today.

EUROPE IS LIKE A STREET OF TRADESMEN WHO PAY HALF THEIR INCOMES FOR BURGLARY INSURANCE AGAINST EACH OTHER. THIS IS VERY ABSURD AND VERY BAD BUSINESS, BUT THERE IS NOTHING ESPECIALLY UNCHRISTIAN ABOUT IT.

Nations get larger until they reach their final expansion and then disappear because neither the earth nor the air nor the water can support them any longer.

Poetry For Today

BETER THAN YOU THINK.

You've had some trouble, and maybe have grown Discouraged through and through, And are ready to throw the whole thing up— I wouldn't, if I were you. For though sometimes there's a bitter taste. In the cup from which you drink, There's more that is sweet in the wine of life Than you or I may think.

Because you have found that the motives of some Are selfish and unjust, Don't view the mass of the human race With feelings of distrust. Though now and then you may find a type From which you can but shrink, You'll find that the rank and file of men Are better than you think.

You are sick of the grasping greed of the age? And so am I, my friend; But I know there's a host of the other kind Who strive for a nobler end. And though it may seem that this old world Is bad enough to sink— Don't fool yourself, there is lots of good, More of it than you think.

Don't glue your eyes to a cheerless view, But keep the good in sight, And trust in Him who is over all, And you'll win out all right. For though in some of the threads of life There's now and then a kink, You'll find the pattern when all is complete, Far better than you think. —Rev. F. M. Moore, Bloomingburg, O.

Men Distinguished in Agricultural, Labor and Industrial Circles Expected to Discuss the Administration's Program—Measures To Be Reported to House Early in March. Democratic Caucus Probable.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Men distinguished in industry, agriculture and labor are expected to discuss the administration anti-trust program at hearings before the house committees that have jurisdiction over this proposed legislation. The hearings on the subject, which will run for a month, will begin this week.

Tomorrow the judiciary committee, of which Mr. Clayton of Alabama is chairman, will begin hearing witnesses on the trade relations bill, the measure aimed at interlocking directorates, and the bill that attempts more clearly to define the terms "monopoly" and "monopolization." Friday the interstate and foreign commerce committee, of which Mr. Adamson of Georgia is chairman, will initiate public hearings on the bill proposing the creation of an "interstate trade commission," and another bill providing government supervision over the issuance of railroad stocks and bonds.

Present indications are that the administration anti-trust program will be submitted to the house for consideration early in March. Whether the bills will be subjected to the test of a Democratic caucus remains to be determined.

There is a general expectation that such men as E. H. Gary, Seth Low, George W. Perkins, J. P. Morgan and others equally prominent will be given an opportunity to present their views on the anti-trust bills. Samuel Gompers will be asked to speak for labor, while the various agricultural associations will be invited to send representatives.

In an interview she says: "There are so many loungers around the Union Depot at night, that I find that my most effective work can be done at this time." Continuing Miss Craumer says: "Young girls who come to big cities are drawn by the lure of the bright lights and the anticipations of happiness." It is just girls of this kind that Miss Craumer hopes to rescue before white slave agents get their hold on them, with promises that instead of developing into joy, bring only sorrow and pain and a ruined life.

STRIKE PROBABLE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 28.—Refusal which has been made by the Lake Shore and Big Four railroads to grant the demands of 2,500 railroad telegraphers, telephone operators and station agents, may result in a strike of these employes over 2,000 miles of road, say officials of the Order of Railway Telegraphers here. Strike ballots have been sent to members of the order.

NEWS OUR FATHERS READ

By John E. M. Kerr.

November 7, 1872.

Mr. D. Waters placed in our hands the other day a copy of the "People's Palladium," Vol. 1, dated August 4, 1832, edited by A. Critchfield, price $2.00 a year. It had the following ticket at the head of its editorial columns: Democratic Republican nomination for President, Andrew Jackson; for Vice President, Martin Van Buren; for Governor, Robert Lucas, for Congress, William Allen. It contains a long editorial in support of President Jackson's veto of the United States Bank. The editor says: "We have received a letter from Bloomingburg signed by a number of subscribers, several of whom have never paid us, ordering discontinuance." The editor says: "We do not discontinue until all arrearages are paid." Among the advertisements we see one by Z. W. Heagler, calling a meeting at the Court House of those who had subscribed money for the purpose of enclosing the grave yard.

John S. Campbell advertises his wholesale and retail hat factory.

Jacob Snider and John King administrators of estate of Henry Snider, advertise his notice of sale of personal property of Snider's estate.

Will Price wants 1500 hands to work on the Ohio Canal between Chillicothe and Portsmouth. Price paid per month, $14.

Z. W. Heagler notifies all that nothing but cash will satisfy him.

The editor has the following: "If you want saddles, inquire at this office."

The Ohio Reform Medical College, 9 miles north of Columbus, advertises. The paper does not appear to be favored with a heavy advertising custom. It appears to be equal to newspapers of that day, everything considered, but pretty poor compared with a modern newspaper.

EMPLOY FLEET OF AEROPLANES

London, Jan. 28.—The army arm; have plans for adapting aeroplanes for the transportation of troops which they hope to induce the war office to sanction. The idea is to build a fleet of aeroplanes, each of which will be able to carry a pilot and 10 soldiers with full equipment. The aviators argue that 100 such aeroplanes would enable the commander of an army to transport 1,000 men from one point of the battlefield to another at the rate of a mile a minute.

STABS PLAYMATES

Ashtabula, O., Jan. 28.—While snowballing in the schoolyard at Sheffield, Raymond Fassett, 16, was stabbed in the back by a playmate, Garland Hill, 12. A wound three inches deep was inflicted, but doctors say the boy will live. The Hill boy admitted the stabbing, but said he did it because older boys were throwing snowballs at the younger ones.

Don't Trust Calomel

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects. Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 7 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. adv

SELF RISING FLOUR TO BE MANUFACTURED IN THIS CITY

Sometime this evening the changing of a pulley will set the new machinery in motion at the big plant of The Washington Milling Company, for the manufacture of two new brands of flour, both to be self rising flour—the first ever manufactured in this city, and the plant will be one of the few in Ohio turning out the new product.

For weeks the work of installing the new machinery for manufacturing the flour has been going forward, and Wednesday afternoon the finishing touches were added so that by the changing of a pulley the work of producing the self rising flour will be started.

The two new brands will be the "Neverfall" and "Sunshine," both of which are manufactured from winter wheat with phosphate, soda and salt added, the new product being scientifically mixed so that it is ready for use without the addition of soda, salt or baking powders, and can be used for bread and all kinds of pastry.

The capacity of the machinery for the manufacture of the self rising flour is 350 to 400 barrels every twenty-four hours, and already orders are on file for thousands of barrels of the new flour, and within a short time it is expected that the demand will exceed the output, as the popularity of the flour increases with use.

The management of the Washington Milling Company figures that the new process, nearly $2 can be saved on each barrel, as the consumer will be at no expense for the ingredients usually required for making bread and pastry, and the additional cost of the flour is expected to be small in comparison with the combined cost of raw flour, baking powders, soda, salt and the like.

For some little time the management of the concern has been making widespread investigation with the result that the self rising flour is to be manufactured in vast quantities.

In addition to the self rising brands the company will continue to manufacture the four brands heretofore produced.

STEWART SALE OF FINE HORSES

The January stock sales yesterday drew the biggest crowd that has been in town for some time, a crowd largely of stockmen and possible buyers.

A notable sale of the day was the offering of Mr. Hugh K. Stewart, of Springhill farm, the well known Duroc Jersey swine and heavy horse breeder, who auctioned off in front of the Hess livery barn a consignment of eleven head of choice registered and grade Percherons.

The entire bunch, largely young geldings and fillies, sold well, bringing a total of $2187. Prices ranged from $99, for a weanling colt, to $410 for a registered Percheron mare, bid in by the Percheron breeder, Mr. Chas. Sargent.

Auctioneer Scott Robinson, of Mt. Sterling, wielded the hammer and bidding was lively throughout the sale. Local buyers captured the entire lot.

Mr. Stewart's annual sale of pure bred Duroc Jersey sows, will be held at the Hess livery barn, on February 7th. In that sale 60 head of pure bred, immune Durocs will be offered and buyers will attend from all over the country.

COUNTY REFUSES TO GRANT FRANCHISE

The commissioners of Ross county this week refused to grant to the officials of the proposed traction line from Hillsboro to Chillicothe, franchise for the construction of the road in that county.

The commissioners were not convinced that the money to finance the project was available, and refused to jeopardize the chances of another company to build if they secured the financial aid before the present company.

RAILROAD SCALE TESTED YESTERDAY

Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures, F. C. Albrecht, of Columbus, Ohio, was in the city Tuesday, called here by The Fayette Grain Co. to settle a dispute between the Howe Scale Co., of Cincinnati, O., and The Fayette Grain Co., concerning a railroad track scale, bought of the Howe Scale Co. The Fayette Grain Co. getting their information from the inspector of scales on the B. & O. system that the scale was not adjusted close enough to weigh correctly, while the Howe Scale Co. contended that they were correct. The following is the finding of Mr. Albrecht:

"I have this day witnessed the test made of the Fayette Grain Co.'s track scale, by Mr. Dunlap, of the B. & O. Ry. Co. with their test car. This scale was found to be off more than is allowed by the State Law and Specifications. F. C. Albrecht, Chief Inspector, State of Ohio.

IRON PRODUCTION BREAKS RECORD

Output of Mines Greater Than In Big Year 1910.

EIGHT PER CENT INCREASE.

Estimated That Sixty Million Long Tons Were Produced in Past Twelve Months—Leading Mines Show Great Increases—The Type of Ore That Was Mined.

New York.—The quantity of iron ore mined in the United States in 1913 is estimated to have been between 58,000,000 and 60,000,000 long tons. This estimate is based on preliminary reports from twenty-five of the largest iron producing districts, whose combined output is about 81 per cent of the total iron ore mined in 1912.

The average increase in output shown by these twenty-five companies was 8 per cent over that for 1912, and if this increase should be maintained by all the iron companies in the United States the total output of iron ore for 1913 should reach 59,500,000 long tons. At any rate, it appears almost certain that the former high record of iron ore mined, 57,014,096 long tons, in 1910, was surpassed in 1913.

In the Lake Superior district, where about 85 per cent of the domestic iron ore is mined, the increase in production corresponded closely with that for the United States in general, or about 8 per cent, thus indicating a total production for that district of about 50,000,000 long tons compared with 46,363,878 tons in 1912. The year 1913 is therefore a record year for production and shipments in this district also. The preliminary figures indicate that the shipments of Lake Superior ore by water will exceed 49,500,000 long tons, which, together with the all rail shipments of more than 800,000 tons, bring the figures for total shipments of lake ore very close to the tonnage of ore mined and indicate that not much change has occurred in the stocks of ore at the mines in the lake district. These stocks amounted at the close of 1912 to about 9,500,000 long tons of ore.

In the Birmingham (Ala.) district the production of iron ore in 1913, as indicated by the preliminary returns, was about 10 per cent greater than that for 1912. In Tennessee there was apparently a slight decrease and in North Carolina a slight increase. New Jersey and New York both showed slight increases, while Pennsylvania showed a slight decrease. In the Rocky mountain district of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico there was a slight decrease.

The types of iron ore produced commercially consist of red and specular hematite, brown ore, magnetite and siderite or spathic ore. Hematite constitutes about 90 per cent of the output. Only a very small fraction of 1 per cent of the output is siderite, the production of brown ore and magnetite together constituting nearly 10 per cent of the total.

Kidney Disease Due to Fear. Boston.—Fear or anger may turn so much sugar into a man's blood as to give him fatal kidney trouble, said Walter B. FORMER WASHINGTON WOMAN ENTERS CHICAGO POLITICS

Mrs. Rufus L. Deer a Candidate for Alderman on Democratic Ticket, Attracting Attention in Chicago Political Circles—Has Male Opponent for the Office She Seeks.

A recent issue of the Chicago Daily News contains an excellent picture of Mrs. Rufus L. Deer, of Chicago, and an interesting statement of the candidacy of this former Washington woman for alderman of the Sixth ward.

Mrs. Deer is a daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Deer and has a number of relatives as well as many friends in this city, who will be greatly interested in the campaign.

"A little woman on a big platform," Mrs. Rufus L. Deer, democratic candidate for alderman of the Sixth ward, and president of the Democratic Woman's association of that district, today promulgated doctrines of democracy that she declares are the fundamental doctrines of feminism, asserting that the Democratic party is the only real "woman's party" in Illinois because of the fact that officers of the Democratic party in the state have been the first and only men in power to give to women any opportunity for entrance into public life.

"In her home, at 4930 St. Lawrence avenue, now campaign headquarters for the candidacy that she is making at the request of the men's as well as the women's Democratic organizations of the ward, Mrs. Deer forcibly projected the reasons why she is opposing the re-election of Alderman Willis O. Nance.

Mrs. Deer is a small and determined woman, whose brown eyes flash as she maintains her democracy. Her party staunchness is not of the David

B. Hill order, contenting himself with reiteration of the main fact that "I am a Democrat."

"She is not merely a Democrat by tradition, or by matrimony, but rather because of her zealous belief that the Democratic party, particularly in Illinois, has been the only political group which has endowed women with the right of equal suffrage.

"I'm a Democrat out of gratitude," is the main clause of Mrs. Deer's platform and one which she elaborates by a review of the main points of the suffrage of this state.

"The woman movement is essentially a Democratic movement," Mrs. Deer says, "not only in principles, but in the aid which it has received from the Democratic party in Illinois. If it had not been for the Democratic governor and the Democratic legislature, woman suffrage would not be an existing fact in Illinois today.

"For twenty years women have secured the introduction into the Springfield legislature of suffrage measures. Those bills never passed, even when they came up for consideration. Through Republican administration after Republican administration woman suffrage was kept a beggar at the gates.

"Mrs. Deer is going to make her fight in the Sixth upon strictly partisan lines. Although she believes in the ability of women to handle municipal housekeeping with greater success than men have shown, she is opposing Mr. Nance, not because he is a man, but because he is a Republican.

"Mrs. Deer is a member of the Woodlawn Woman's club, of the Martha Washington club, of the Allied Drug club, of the Tuesday Art and Travel league, the Illinois Woman's Democratic league and Olive chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star."

In Social Circles

Mrs. W. W. Millikan was hostess at the Wednesday Afternoon Euchre club today.

A boys' class, in process of organization in the Presbyterian Sunday school, the "Clarence Baer class", was entertained by Rev. Wm. B. Gage with a pleasurable six o'clock dinner last evening in the church parlors.

Mrs. Ione Bryant catered, serving an elegant dinner. Seated with Rev. Gage and the ten boys of the class were Rev. Shaw, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. M. E. Hitchcock, supt., and Mr. L. L. Bowman, assistant superintendent.

Mrs. Hibben Ervin and daughter, Mrs. Jennie Bailey, hospitably entertained the Guild Kensington of the Presbyterian church this afternoon.

SAYS MILITIA IS TOP HEAVY

General Mills Wants Troops Up to Army Standards.

WOULD INCREASE EFFICIENCY

In Annual Report He Favors Federal Pay Law and Theoretical Instruction. Coast Artillery Forces Are Weak. Many of the States Short of Rifles. 111,672 Men Inlisted at End of Year.

Washington.—Conditions in the organization of the militia of the country are, on the whole, far from satisfactory in organization, in strength and in training, according to Brigadier General A. L. Mills, chief of the division of militia affairs of the war department, in his annual report. In his opinion, the militia's organization is top heavy, incomplete and unbalanced; its strength is much below the important items necessary for field service, and its training is, on the average, far below the standard required for efficiency in time of need.

General Mills declares, however, that, despite a decrease in numerical strength in the militia, the past year was one of considerable progress and improvement. The loss in number has brought about increased efficiency, and he believes the result will be an increase in strength both in organizations and personnel.

General Mills believes that this improvement may be made more certain by enactment of a militia pay law. He strongly urges federal and state cooperation on the ground that the organized militia's welfare can be fostered only in that way. The time has arrived, he says, for the department to formulate a scheme for theoretical instruction of the militia of all the states.

Some of the states are severely criticized for failure to take proper care of government property. About $1,000,000 worth was dropped or carried on a suspended account. Of the total number of rifles on hand in one state there were not enough serviceable ones to equip the troops for target practice through sheer neglect. In another the number of rifles short would equip a regiment at peace strength.

General Mills urges arrangement of the militia upon a proportionate basis of the various arms and believes the quickest way of correcting the present condition lies in the conversion of sufficient of the infantry into the other arms to strike a balance. Any legislation should carry with it provision for a reserve to be given a limited amount of field training under pay.

The strength of the militia at the end of the fiscal year was 9,130 officers and 111,672 enlisted men, a net decrease of 12 officers and 1,038 enlisted men as compared with the preceding year.

For some unknown reason the department has failed to secure an increase in the coast artillery militia, and it is suggested that the law be amended to permit the secretary of war to allot the militia funds among the several arms of the service in proportion to the strength in which he considers they should be maintained.

FIND GIANTS' SKELETONS.

In Life They Averaged Twelve Feet In Height.

Winnsboro, La.—Skeletons of a race of giants who averaged twelve feet in height were found by workmen engaged on a drainage project at Crowville, near here.

There are several score at least of the skeletons, and they lie in various positions. It is believed they were killed in a prehistoric fight and that the bodies lay where they fell until covered with alluvial deposits due to the flooding of the Mississippi river. No weapons of any sort were found, and it is believed the Titans must have struggled with wooden clubs. The skulls are in a perfect state of preservation, and some of the jawbones are large enough to fit around a baby's body.

Statement by Executive Committee

The Executive Committee of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign desires to record its unanimous adherence to the original purpose and plan of the campaign. The injection of any issue foreign to the actual purpose of this campaign should not be allowed to divert the public mind from our goal, or to diminish the faith of Christian people in the success of a movement already marked by the signal blessing of God. Let us concentrate our prayers and efforts upon the success of the Campaign, and give our loyal and unfailing support to our pastors and leaders.

The best thought of all is "God is with us" and then in the words of John 17:21 "That they all may be one; as thou, Father art in me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that Thou hast sent me."

Boblitt's Statement

At the opening of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign, to win Fayette County for Christ, I was brought to this city by the Christian church, and was more than glad to co-operate in the union movement, with all my heart. It was, and is, my earnest hope that this Campaign shall bring many hundreds of souls to Christ in this community. The central purpose of this crusade, is primarily, and at all times, the preaching of God's Word, and the extension of God's Kingdom.

If through any fault of mine, or any mis-statement or misquotation, I have inadvertently injured any person or persons, in this community, I am most sincerely sorry, and I offer my heart-felt regret for the same, stating, in justice to myself and this Campaign, that I sought only the good of all men. May we all join our hearts and hands in what may, and should be made, the greatest soul stirring for Christ in this County.

Signed: H. C. BOBLITT.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

BY CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

OHIO MOTHER OF EDUCATION IN THE WEST

Ohio possesses the title of the mother of education in the west.

At Athens it fostered and continues to support the first university established west of the Ohio river.

Congress endowed the institution with 46,000 acres of Ohio land from which at the beginning it derived an annual income of $5,000 and in 1804 the year following the admittance of Ohio into the union, the legislature granted it a charter and lent it financial aid. For some years it was closed while funds for its maintenance accumulated.

One of the most noted primary educators in history was for a time its president, William Holmes McCaffey, D. D., author of McCaffey's readers and spelling books, familiar to practically every school boy and girl in the country up to a decade ago, headed the university from 1839 to 1843.

From its portals, stepped the first collegiate alumnus in western America—Thomas Ewing, upon whom the university conferred the degree of bachelor of arts.

One of the most noted officers of the institution was Moses Hewitt, born in Worcester, Mass., in 1767 and who came to Ohio in 1790. Although his learning consisted solely of reading and writing, Hewitt, because of his natural shrewdness, was able to profitably assist in the management of the funds and the lands of the institution. He knew nothing of the management of the literary department of the institution but his success as manager of the two townships of land from which the institution derived revenue made him famous.

Hewitt in his earlier days was an avowed enemy of the Indians, whom he frequently worsted because of his colossal strength. With one hand he could with ease lift a blacksmith's anvil by grasping it at the point, end.

A giant in stature, he possessed hands so small that once when captive of the Indians, he escaped by working them through thongs the Redmen had bound around his wrist.

STATE TO USE THE AUTO TAX

County Amendment to Warnes Measure Ruled Out.

BILL THEN PASSES BY 84 TO 30

Senate Accepts I. and R. Safeguard Proposition After Attempt Fails to Prevent It Going to Referendum. Primary Bill Gets Unanimous Vote in House—Governor's Right to Specify Particulars Challenged.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—By a vote of 84 to 30 the house passed the Warnes automobile tax bill. Republican members lined up solidly against it on the ground that Governor Cox had usurped authority not given him by the constitution when, in specifying that the automobile tax go to the highway department, he so restricted the freedom of action of the legislature that Speaker Swain could rule out of order, as he did, an amendment that the tax proceeds be expended for good roads by the county commissioners.

Mr. Conover of Champaign, who offered the county commissioner amendment, and Mr. Reid, the Republican leader, urged the house to assume its constitutional rights, which they declared the governor had usurped. Mr. Black of Hamilton, who championed the contention of the majority, held the house could not amplify the executive's recommendation and that the remedy for any encroachment on the legislature by the governor was to vote down the bills he proposed.

To sustain his position Mr. Reid quoted decisions of the Colorado supreme court construing the provisions of the constitution of that state, which is exactly similar to the Ohio constitution. He added: "If in the face of a precedent like that you can ignore an amendment like this, we have to conclude the executive department of state has become supreme and we are without a legislative branch."

Speaker Swain declared the Conover amendment not germane. He said the constitutional convention must have expected the Ohio provision to be construed closely as the delegates seemed to fear the legislature might not think it had even right to provide for incidental expenses of the session unless distinctly expressed and so had done so.

The position of the speaker was sustained by a vote of 70 to 39, 10 Democrats voting with the Republicans.

I. and R. Safeguarded.

Though Democratic members of the senate applauded the merits of the initiative and referendum as a principle of government, they attempted to take away the right of referendum on the Weyandt initiative and referendum safeguards measure which had passed a moment before without a dissenting vote. In this attempt they were frustrated by Republican members and Senator James P. Seward of Richland county, a Democrat.

The bill carried an emergency clause which would have made the measure a law immediately on being signed by the governor, instead of lying the statutory 90 days to permit of a referendum. By Senator Seward voting with the seven Republicans against the adoption of the emergency clause, one vote of the necessary two-thirds was lacking to enact the clause.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COUGHS OR COLDS.

Many Have Filled Consumptive Graves Because They Neglected a Cough or Cold.

You never know how soon a cold will become a serious malady. It may be in the head to-day; in the lungs to-morrow and the next day you may be fighting deadly pneumonia for your life. It's much the same with a cough. Inflamed and cough-worn throat and lungs offer the best chance to consumption germs to begin their murderous work. There's only one way to prevent these deadly diseases getting a hold on you. As soon as a cough or cold attacks you, take Dr. King's New Discovery until you are entirely cured. Sometimes a dose or two will do the business, saving you suffering and a doctor's bill. Thousands of cures like these below prove its wonderful power to cure coughs and colds.

The house unanimously passed the Snyder bill for primary nomination of United States senators, after the speaker had ruled as not germane amendments by Mr. Vonderheide, who said he "was opposed to the independent, uplift, highbrow stuff," that no candidate's name could be printed on the ballot unless he was nominated by a political party, and Representative John R. King of Franklin, granting an appeal to the courts from arbitrary rulings on nominations by the secretary of state.

The Fellingner bill, appropriating $100,000 for the Ohio building at the San Francisco exposition, was passed, after defeat of an amendment offered by Mr. Snyder that 15 per cent of the money be used to pay transportation of an Ohio live stock exhibit.

The house passed and sent to the governor the Broadstone senate bill, empowering the Xenia orphanage trustees to pay salaries.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE TO DEATH

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 28.—A pair of woman's gloves, a baby's cap, a box containing one medicinal powder and a note signed "Hassell" were found on the suspension bridge. The police believe the note is genuine and are working on the theory that a Cincinnati girl leaped off the bridge with her baby. In the note the writer declares that when her baby is taken from the river a waterproof bag will be found pinned inside her waist. This bag, the note says, contains the picture of a policeman who the writer accuses of causing her trouble. In the note is a request that the Rev. Father Finn of St. Xavier's church utter a prayer for the repose of the writer's soul. The note also contains what is thought to be a detailed account of the life of the writer.

JAPS SUPPLY WAR SINEWS

Washington, Jan. 28.—Information has come to this government to the effect that President Huerta of Mexico has been obtaining his supply of arms recently from Japanese sources. The rifles which he has been getting are, it is said, those which were used in the Japanese war with Russia. It is understood that the information which officials of this government has obtained indicates that the supply of arms came from the Japanese government itself, but many in Washington hesitate to credit this report. Officials, however, who have access to the information intimate that the evidence is strong.

CLAIMS ORDER WRECKED ROAD

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 28.—Colonel A. R. Lawton, vice president of the Central of Georgia railroad and head of its legal department, told the congressional investigating committee that Federal Judge Emory Speer, whose conduct is under probe by the committee, wrecked the old Central of Georgia railroad property by signing a "midnight order" throwing its affairs into court when the road was absolutely solvent and the stock was bringing $210 a share. Colonel Lawton's narrative was one of the most sensational statements made during the hearing.

Colonel Lawton stated that the affairs of the road and its extensive properties were in a flourishing condition in 1890 when an order was issued to appear in the court of Judge Speer to show cause why a receiver should not be named. The order had been signed at Macon on the previous night, he said, without giving the company or its representatives time to make any statements.

VANDERBILT YACHT IS ON THE ROCKS

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—The steel yacht Warrior, owned by Frederick W. Vanderbilt, is on the rocks off the coast of Colombia, according to a wireless message received here. On the yacht were F. W. Vanderbilt and wife, Lord Falconer and the Duke and Duchess of Manchester. In addition to the crew. The radiogram stated that the Warrior struck the rocks at Cape Aguatia, near Savanilla. When the Warrior struck on the rocks she was en route to Colon, where Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and their guests intended to spend some time inspecting the Panama canal. The Warrior is 255 feet in length, 1,697 gross tonnage, and is equipped with wireless.

A radiogram received later stated the Vanderbilt party were taken off the yacht by the United Fruit steamer Frutera and transferred to the steamer Mirante, bound for New York via Colon. The crew remained on board. The yacht is said to be in a fairly safe position.

Interstate Commerce Commission's Tap Line Decision.

STEEL COMPANIES AFFECTED.

Held by the Commission That Certain Allowances Amount to Rebates and Must Be Discontinued—Several Ohio Plants Hit by the Decision. Other Industries To Be Included Later On.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The interstate commerce commission handed down a decision which is of great importance in connection with the pending request of the railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission refers directly to the advance rate case and for the first time announces that it will not shirk the responsibility of granting a general advance provided the railroads are able to show that this is necessary in order to insure a fair return to investors.

The commission takes occasion to warn the railroads that they must conserve the sources of revenue which they now have. As a step in helping them to do this, the commission holds that certain allowances, including remission of demurrage charges, division of rates and per diem claims made to the iron and steel industry, amount to rebates, and will have to be discontinued.

Through this decision the commission, it is estimated, adds $15,000,000 a year to the revenues of the railroads affected. These include the railroads in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers. The United States Steel corporation is the hardest hit of the concerns that have been enjoying these favors from the railroads.

The case decided by the commission relates only to the iron and steel industries, but it is not finished and will include all industries having plant railways.

The allowances objected to are made by the trunk lines to industries that own and operate such plant lines in connection with their industrialisms.

Among the plants affected by the tap line decision are the following: The Pittsburgh Steel company, Republic Iron and Steel company, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, United Iron and Steel company, Cleveland Furnace company, Pressed Steel Car company, and the United States Steel corporation.

VASSAR'S GHOST

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The ghost of Matthew Vassar, founder of Vassar college, is asserted to be haunting an old homestead farmhouse once owned by him on the New Hackensack road, between Red Oak hills and New Hackensack. Within the past four months three families have moved from the place in terror. The present owner, who scoffs at the report, has nevertheless placed "for sale" signs on the old residence, as no one will rent the house.

Henry L. Stonebridge of Schenectady, who turned farmer for his health, moved from the house last Saturday. The spectacle of the ghost standing at the foot of the bed occupied by Stonebridge and his wife was too much for them, they said. The spirit, they assert, resembled exactly photographs in existence of Matthew Vassar.

OHIO CASE AIRED

Washington, Jan. 28.—Arguments are being made in the supreme court today in the case to determine whether or not the Ohio statute prohibiting the employment of women for more than nine hours a day, or a total of 54 hours a week, is good law. The Ohio Manufacturers' association, which is trying to get the law knocked out, carried the case to Washington from the Ohio supreme court, which held the act constitutional.

SWEEPING ORDER REQUIRES THE GRADING OF ALL CORN

Farmers Must Raise Better Corn and Market It in Better Condition or be Graded High and Receive Low Price—United States Department of Agriculture Establishes Grades and Farmers and Grain Dealers are Uncertain Just What Effect Will Be.

Beginning July 1st, this year, all corn placed upon the market by farmers throughout the United States must be graded, and prices paid accordingly, and grain dealers are now trying to figure out what effect the new Federal order will have on the buying and selling of corn.

All corn must be graded as soon as received at the elevators, and unless there is a radical change in the manner of marketing corn, some very poor prices will be paid to Mr. Farmer for corn which contains an abundance of moisture, while the farmer who raises a good quality of corn and markets it in dry condition, will receive top prices for it.

There are seven grades established by the government, and it may be surprising to many farmers to know that the average grade at present is No. 3 or worse, and No. 3 contains 17.5 per cent moisture, while the first grade drops down to 14 per cent. Grade No. 6 contains 23 per cent of moisture.

It is expected that some confusion will result at the time the order becomes effective, owing to no difference in price having been fixed by the government officials, for the various grades.

The grain dealers must also be equipped to separate the various grades when received, instead of dumping them all into the elevator together.

All grain dealers and farmers will be interested in the following treatise upon the subject issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, and which says in part:

EFFECT ON FARMERS.
The anticipated effect of these grades is thus described by the Secretary of Agriculture in his annual report for the year 1913:

Definite standards for the grading of commercial corn and the uniform application of such standards in all markets under suitable Government supervision would be of direct value to our corn growers, in that such standardization would encourage the marketing of dry corn of better quality. Heretofore it has been the common practice to pay practically the same price for all corn delivered at country stations, regardless of its water content or of its soundness. Farmers have not been slow to grasp the situation, and under such a system have naturally made but little effort to market corn in a dry and sound condition. The system has placed a premium on poor and careless farming at the expense of good farm methods and practices.

Under a definite system of grading and the elimination of such terms as "reasonably dry" and "reasonably clean," the farmer as well as the grain dealer will be able to know and fully understand the requirements for the different grades. With a knowledge of the grade requirements the farmer who markets dry corn of good quality will be in a position to demand a premium for such corn. It will not be necessary for him to accept a No. 4 price for corn which he sells under a grade designation of No. 3. He will then have some encouragement to exercise greater care in the harvesting, storing, and marketing of his corn; he can likewise ascertain in advance of sale with a fair degree of accuracy the grade of his corn while in the crib, and, thus not market it until it is sufficiently dry to meet the requirements of a higher grade. The way will be open for real progress in the movement for the production of more corn of better quality, and farmers who grow corn primarily for market will have an incentive to grow earlier maturing varieties, which will contain less moisture when marketed and can be sold at a premium. Likewise, the country shipper will be in a position to pay a premium for good corn, in that he, in turn, will have the assurance of the same definite system of grading regardless of the market to which he ships.

GENERAL RULES.
1. The corn in grades No. 1 to No. 5, inclusive, must be sweet.
2. White corn, all grades, shall be at least 98 per cent white.
3. Yellow corn, all grades

shall be at least 95 per cent yellow.
4. Mixed corn, all grades, shall include corn of various colors not coming within the limits for color as provided for under white or yellow corn.

5. In addition to the various limits indicated, No. 6 corn may be musty, sour, and may also include corn of inferior quality, such as immature, and badly blistered.

6. ... corn that does not meet the requirements of either of the six numerical grades by reason of an excessive percentage of moisture, damaged kernels, foreign matter or "cracked" corn, or corn that is heat damaged, fire burnt, infested with live weevil, or otherwise of distinctly low quality, shall be classed as sample grade.

7. In No. 6 and sample grade, reasons for so grading shall be stated on the inspector's certificate.

8. Finely broken corn shall include all broken particles of corn that will pass through a perforated metal sieve with round holes nine sixty-fourths of an inch in diameter.

9. "Cracked" corn shall include coarsely broken pieces of kernels all that will pass through a perforated metal sieve with round holes one-quarter of an inch in diameter, except that the finely broken corn as provided for under Rule 8 shall not be considered as "cracked" corn.

10. It is understood that the damaged corn; the foreign material, including pieces of cob, dirt, finely broken corn, other grains, etc.; and the coarsely broken or "cracked" corn, as provided for under the various grades, shall be such as occur naturally in corn when handled under good commercial conditions.

11. Moisture percentages, as provided for in these grade specifications, shall conform to results obtained by the standard method and tester as described in Circular 72, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture this 3rd day of January, 1914.

B. T. GALLOWAY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TRAIN CAPTURED BY THE BANDITS

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 28.—A Mexican Northwestern mixed train was captured by Maximo Castillo's bandits below Guzman. Castillo was at one time chief of Francisco Madero's bodyguard. The train left Juarez for Madera. A section foreman telegraphed from Guzman that the train had been captured, a bridge burned below Guzman and the telegraph wire cut below that station in the vicinity of the American Mormon colonies. The train was composed of passenger and freight cars and carried several American ranchers and cattlemen who were going to western Chihuahua to look after their interests. Some concern is felt for the safety of the Americans on the train because of Castillo's order to his bandits to shoot all Americans who return to their ranches in the western part of the state, which he controls.

Castillo's band is said to be growing every day. As the former federal who deserted at Ojinaga and Presidio are joining him, he is said to have more than 100 men at the present time. It is also believed that many ex-prisoners from Fort Bliss are joining the Castillo crowd in western Chihuahua.

General Villa's rebel force at Juarez left for the south to search for the bandits. Villa guaranteed protection to the trains of this American-Canadian owned railway.

BRIBE CASES TO BE DECIDED

By Associated Press.

Charleston, W. Va., January 28.—Judge Miller, of the West Virginia Circuit Court of Appeals today from the bench announced that the court was not ready to render a decision in the appeal of 5 state legislators convicted last summer of bribery in connection with the U. S. Senatorial election earlier in the year. Attorneys for the state and appellants will confer with the court this afternoon and the decision is expected to be made tomorrow. The convicted legislators are in the Webster county jail.

NEWSPAPER PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

By Associated Press.

Bangor, Maine, Jan. 28.—The plant of the Bangor Daily News was destroyed by fire today. Two blazes originated in the press room, shot up through the elevator shaft and spread throughout the building. The loss will reach $35,000.

CITY MANAGER CUTS EXPENSES

Springfield, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Unless kept on the police force in some capacity other than inspector, Arthur Spiker, for four years assistant chief, will leave the force, as his office of inspector was abolished with that of twelve other officials in the police department at Monday night's session of the city commission.

One inspector, one halliff, two sergeants, one guard at the city prison and seven patrolmen were swiped off the city payroll when a resolution abolishing their jobs was adopted. The men to go from the force were not named, but they will be selected at a later time by the chief, whoever he may be, and Manager Ashburner. Chief O'Brien may or may not be retained, was the way Mr. Ashburner put it last night and that did not mean very much.

The positions left in the department are: one chief, three sergeants, four detectives, two station house patrolmen, one matron, 25 patrolmen.

ASHBROOKE IN LIMELIGHT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 28.—Representative Ashbrooke, of Ohio, told the U. S. Public Buildings committee today that the government "had been beautifully bumped" on a site former Secretary Shaw chose for the Pittsburgh, Pa., postoffice several years ago. Efforts to sell it for $750,000 had failed, he said. Senators Oliver and others were asking the committee to authorize an appropriation of $1,500,000 for a new site.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE ARRESTED

By Associated Press.

London, England, January 28.—Militant suffragettes today made a bold attempt to break into a meeting of the British Cabinet council sitting at the official residence of Premier Asquith, in Downing St. An automobile belonging to the Woman's Social and Political Union, with a woman driver and filled with suffragettes dashed from Whitehall to Downing street before the line of police stationed outside the Asquith residence realized what was going on. The entire party was placed under arrest and taken to police headquarters in Scotland Yard.

FRACTURES ARM THE THIRD TIME

Raymond Vance, who resides in Bloomingburg, is again suffering from a broken arm—the third time that the arm has been fractured.

Sometime ago while engaged in a basket ball game at Bloomingburg, young Vance sustained a fracture of the arm at a point where it had once before been broken, and a few days ago he suffered a similar fracture while scuffling with a schoolmate.

The team is regarded as one of the very best in the United States.

TILLABLE LAND NOT BEING USED

United States Department of Agriculture Claims There Are 829,000,000 Acres of the Land That is Not Available For Any Form of Agriculture.

Only 27 per cent of the tillable land of the United States is actually under cultivation, according to estimates of the Department of Agriculture, based upon reports of 35,000 correspondents. These reports were obtained in order to gain information as to the tillable area of the United States, the amount of land that can not be used for crops that have to be plowed but available for pasture or fruits, and the total number of acres that never can be used for agricultural purposes. From the returns, which were generally very consistent, preliminary estimates have been made for each state and for the United States. Further investigation in the Far Western states may modify somewhat the present estimates for those states.

The entire United States excluding foreign possessions, contains about 1,900,000,000 acres. Of this area about 60 per cent, or 1,140,000,000 acres, is estimated to be tillable; that is, capable of being brought under cultivation by means of the plow. This includes land already under such cultivation and that which in the future may be brought under cultivation by clearing, drainage, irrigation, etc.

Three hundred and sixty one million acres, or 19 per cent, are estimated to be non-tillable but valuable for pasture or fruits. Only 21 per cent, or 399,000,000 acres, was estimated to be of no use for agriculture present or future.

According to the census of 1910, the land area in crops where acreage was given was 311,000,000 acres. This is about 16 per cent of the total land area, or about 27 per cent of the estimated potential tillable area of the United States, excluding foreign possessions.

In other words, for every 100 acres that are now tilled, about 375 acres may be tilled when the country is fully developed. In the development of the agriculture of the country the land which was most easily brought into a state of cultivation as the great Mississippi Valley, was the first to be brought into such use. Extensions of tilled area will be at greater expense for clearing, drainage, irrigation, etc. The increased production of the future will be the result of increased yields per acre as well as extension of area.
